To stop Jinx from becoming demon like her father, her best friend Danni Malloy must rescue and convince Madam Satan to guide her through Hell itself to find the one thing that can possibly save her friend's soul—Jinx's mom! PREVIEWS FROM THE EDITOR

SUMMER'S HERE!

It's officially my favorite time of year! Summer is here, the heat is on, and movies they are comin' at us fast and furious... well, except for that last Fast & Furious movie... I think we have to wait until 2025 to see how they outdo themselves for the finale of the ridiculous-but-entertaining film series starring Vin Diesel. This past May saw the releases of Kingdom of the Planet of the Apes and Furiosa: A Mad Max Saga! As of this writing, I haven't seen either, but I think I'm going to enjoy them both from what I've seen! And June will see the release of such films as the remake of The Crow, The Watchers (the new film written and directed by Ishana Night Shyamalan, daughter of M. Night Shyamalan), Bad Boys 4, Inside Out 2, and A Quiet Place: Day One. There's plenty more coming, I'm sure, but those are some of the bigger releases scheduled for June. I'll definitely be checking out the majority of them!

And speaking of exciting new releases, on May 15th, the first issue of The GunHAND, the action-packed Weird Western written by me, and featuring the fantastic art of Matthew Plog, finally hit stores! It was exciting to see it on shelves and I'm hoping that once it gets into the hands of retailers and readers, that we can start building our audience! So, if you haven't reserved your copy yet, go to your local comic shop and let them know you want The GunHAND! I think you're gonna like it!

There are some really cool fantasy elements at play in The GunHAND, and this month in PREVIEWS (where you can find the solicitation for issue #3 of the series on page 269!), we're celebrating all things fantastic and futuristic with our SCI-FI/FANTASY MONTH theme! The SCI-FI and FANTASY genres have gone hand-in-hand for decades, and there's no denying the fact that people love both passionately! From Books and Comics to Television and Movies, it's a sure bet that there's always something in the works to satisfy fans' appetites for out-of-this-world entertainment! This issue is just jam-packed with the best in SCI-FI and FANTASY works, and plenty of cool merchandise to bring these alternate worlds to life!

The Diamond PREVIEWS team will be heading to San Diego for Comic Con International 2024 this July... and while

I won't be "manning the booth", I will be in attendance once again, wandering the exhibition hall in search of vintage horror and cartoon comics, and even taking some time to promote The GunHAND at the CLUB 408 GRAPHICS booth (#1907), home to my pal Rich Henn and his own autobiographical comics series, Zoomies! I'll be there for a couple of hours every day, so just find the booth and look for my appearance schedule! I'll have copies of issue #1 available, including the Kelley Jones variant!

That's all for now. Thanks for picking up the latest issue of PREVIEWS! I'm sure you're going to find plenty of cool stuff inside!

Gemstone to Publish Anthony Del Col's Kill Shakespeare Graphic Novel Series

For the first time in its history Gemstone Publishing, home of The Overstreet Comic Book Price Guide, will publish graphic novels, beginning with Pulitzer Prize-winning writer Anthony Del Col's acclaimed series Kill Shakespeare. The publishing program begins on Free Comic Book Day, May 4, 2024, with the release of the first act of Romeo Vs. Juliet: A Kill Shakespeare Adventure.

The story continues November 19, with the publication of the graphic novel Romeo Vs. Juliet: A Kill Shakespeare Adventure by Del Col, with art by Stefan Tosheff and cover by Richard Isanove. On September 24, Gemstone will publish Kill Shakespeare 1st Folio, a new compendium collecting Volumes 1 and 2, by co-writers Del Col and Conor McCreery, artist Andy Belanger, and colorist

Ian Herring, then Kill Shakespeare 2nd Folio will follow next spring.

Heritage Comics & Art Auction Achieves Massive $28M

Heritage's Comics & Comic Art Signature Auction in April 2024, was a huge success, setting multiple records on its way to $28.2 million in sales. The auction's leader was Action Comics #1 CGC 8.5 Kansas City Pedigree featuring Superman's debut that sold for $6 million and set a record as most valuable comic in the world.

Auction highlights included Tales of Suspense #39 CGC 9.8 (Iron Man's first appearance) for $840,000, Captain America #1 CGC 9.2 (Cap's origin and first appearance) for $750,000, Don Heck's Tales of Suspense #39 original art of Tony Stark's first time in the Iron Man armor for $552,000, The Avengers #1 CGC 9.6 (team's first outing) for $432,000, and Sensation Comics #1 CGC 9.6 (Wonder Woman's first cover, second appearance) for $420,000.

LOST UNIVERSES: DNAgents & Crossfire

Published by Eclipse, the DNAgents family of titles includes DNAgents, Crossfire, the limited series Crossfire and Rainbow and Surge, Whodunnit?, and Three Dimensional DNAgents. Both DNAgents and Crossfire enjoyed good runs, carving out their own universe in the non-universe that was Eclipse.

Writer Mark Evanier teamed with artist-producer Will Meugniot to create DNAgents #1 (March 1983), and a story so far ahead of its time that it's just now contemporary. Developed by a major conglomerate known as Matrix Technologies, the characters were genetically modified, test-tube creations intended to be slave special agents for their corporate masters. The team consisted of the mistress of mirage Rainbow, juggernaut Tank, hothead Surge, aerial angel Amber, and oh-so-shy Sham. The agents had minds and personalities of their own, so drama, conflict, and action followed.

Esposito

Von Gorman

Please tell us a bit about yourselves!

Joey Esposito: I'm a writer who lives in Maine and is obsessed with my wife and our pets. I've been making comics for about 15 years, including Pawn Shop with Sean (Von Gorman) and a variety of other creator-owned books. I was part of the 2017 DC Comics Writer's Workshop, and in the years since, I've written Batman: Urban Legends, the Aquaman and the Lost Kingdom prequel comic, and more!

Sean Von Gorman: BEHOLD! I'm Sean Von Gorman (of Comics). I'm a comic illustrator based in Brooklyn, NY. I've been known to handcuff myself to things and escape straitjackets to promote my projects. It's possible you may have come across a life-sized cardboard cutout of me at a comic show over the past couple of years. Many prefer it to the real thing.

What are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?

Von Gorman: I've had a blast putting together creator-owned projects like Pawn Shop (AUG151856), Black Mask Studio's Toe Tag Riot (MAR161159) and Ghost Planet (STL240597) for Scout Comics. I've also had the honor of contributing to the Eisner Award-winning DC/IDW anthology series, Love Is Love, as well as covers for IDW's Star Trek books.

Esposito: The Pedestrian (See Magma Comix, Page 397!), honestly. Working on this book with Sean and Magma has been the ideal example of what I love about making comic books and why it's my preferred medium. Since we started talking about it during lockdown in 2020, it's just felt like making something cool with my friend, which is my only true goal in my professional life. It's been such a collaborative experience; talking things through, excited emails and texts when we have a cool idea, hyping each other up, each of us inspiring the other and spinning things off in new and unexpected directions to make the most unique-to-us book possible.

The Pedestrian is the byproduct of a collaboration-turned-friendship, and the end result is something that was only possible after getting to understand each other as creators over the last decade and change.

What are you currently working on?

Esposito: Sean and I are working hard on The Pedestrian and hoping orders are strong enough to keep the story going, because we've got PLANS. You think you know what it's about, but you've really got no idea! I've also got a variety of other creator-owned projects in various stages, some that you'll hopefully hear about soon and some that are still looking for homes! In addition, I've got some work-for-hire projects coming soon from DC and elsewhere that haven't been announced yet!

Von Gorman: I'm working on a new series called The Pedestrian! It's about a street level costumed hero that never breaks the law to fight crime. On the surface, it is a quirky slice of life story through a superhero lens, but beneath the surface there is an ancient war brewing linked to the secret history of street signs! Forget everything you learned in traffic school!

What fun titles are you reading?

Von Gorman: I really dig Rich Douek and Gavin Smith's Heartpiercer from Dark Horse. Also do yourself a favor and catch up on Magma's launch titles: The Principles of Necromancy (#1 Cover A / FEB241555), Silicon Bandits (#1 Cover A / FEB241558), and The Scale Trade (#1 Cover A / MAR241780)!

Esposito: I'm reading AWA's Little Black Book (#2 Cover B / MAR241424) by Jeff McComsey and Felipe Cunha; Zac Thompson and Daniel Irizarri's Cemetery Kids Don't Die (#1 Cover A / FEB241586) from Oni Press; and David and Maria Lapham's Underheist (#1 2nd Printing / DEC237334) from BOOM! Studios.

USER'S GUIDE

There's a lot of awesome comics and products to look through in PREVIEWS. "A lot" might be a bit of an understatement, as each month's catalog is filled with hundreds and hundreds of pages of upcoming comics and related merchandise! It can be easy to accidentally overlook a new series you've been dying to read or a figure you've been pining to add to your shelf when there's so many things to browse. That's why we've put together this guide to help you learn how to use PREVIEWS like a pro to order the awesome titles and products you want!

WHAT EXACTLY IS PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part catalog, part magazine (we call it a Mag-a-log!) of monthly listings of all of the upcoming comic titles and related products from your favorite publishers and manufacturers in one convenient place. And don't worry—PREVIEWS is organized by publisher and product type (and color-coded to boot!), to make it easy to find and flip to the section or items you're looking for. Each item listing has the information you need, such as format, size, page count, price, release date, stock or item code, and descriptive text, and nearly every listing is accompanied by artwork or images.

The most important aspect of PREVIEWS to remember is that items solicited in the catalog are anticipated to ship 2-3 months later (or more). For example, if you found a comic you wanted in the May issue of PREVIEWS, you can expect to see it turn up in your local comic shop in July. The catalog can be a great resource for figuring out where your favorite comic series is going, or for discovering new ones that you'll want to add to your library—not to mention all the other awesome products!

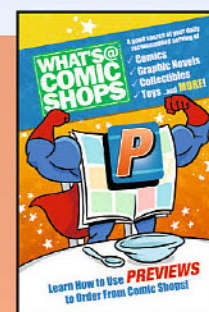

HOW DO I ORDER FROM PREVIEWS?

When you've picked out all of the items you want, you can fill out the items you want, you can fill out the Short Order Form included in your copy of PREVIEWS and submit it to your local comic shop. You can also ask your friendly neighborhood retailer about obtaining a Customer Order Form, a booklet that contains a complete listing of all the items made available for that month. These forms make pre-ordering your comics and products a breeze and can help your retailer about their pullbox or subscription service. Once you've submitted your order, you can sit back and relax, or try to contain your excitement until your comics and merchandise arrive!

This summer, something HUGE is coming. Writer Adam Rose and artist Magenta King present HUGE DETECTIVE, a brand new comic series that follows the unlikely partnership of a human and a giant as they attempt to solve a string of MURDERS sweeping the country. The pair - detectives Tamaki and Gyant - must learn to embrace their SIZABLE differences as they go deeper into a mystery BIGGER than either could imagine.

We chatted with creators Rose and King about their upcoming series, which starts August 2024.

ADAM ROSE AND MAGENTA KING HUGE DETECTIVE

Firstly, could you give readers an elevator pitch for Huge Detective and tell us why people should get in their pre-orders in as soon as they finish reading this interview?

AR: Murder and identity come together in Huge Detective to pull a comic reader into a world with ancient roots. If you like True Detective sprinkled with Roald Dahl and a dash of geo-political discord, we have the BIGGEST, BEST book for you right here!

MK: I think we managed to build a very different vision of crime stories and also giant protagonists. We are filling the pages with a lot of detail and layers that will make the reader want to know more and more about the story throughout the editions.

How did the concept for Huge Detective come together?

AR: Around four years ago, Giants in the modern world popped into my head, and the mystery of Huge Detective was born. My first thought involved my passion for the art form of comics and how it is such a beautiful and unique space where anything is possible. I wanted to create something that used sequential art to its fullest, pushing boundaries and panel configurations into visual storytelling that explodes onto the page.

MK: When Adam invited me to this project, I was very curious about how giants and crime stories would work together. When I started reading and getting involved in the story, I began to see a very different path than what I had read before. And that made me want to add as much as possible to the story with my art.

This series is about Detective Tamaki, a human, and Detective Gyant, a giant, solving a series of murders and disappearances across the US. Given their sizable differences, what is their relationship like at the start of the comic?

AR: The idea of characters from different worlds having to meet somewhere in the middle has always grabbed my attention. Tamaki and Gyant live with a lot of trauma from the days of the Omega Event and the current state of affairs between Huge and Human. Tamaki doesn't trust Gyant not to gobble her up on the spot and Gyant doesn't trust himself. Like any relationship, they have to learn how to build trust and they have to dismantle the stereotypes they associate with one another. Huge Detective shows the ups and downs of how these two navigate one another and this oversized case!

MK: What worried me most at the beginning was this difference in the characters' sizes. And for practical reasons: how could I put both on the scene without always using the same solutions? In the end, this question was what motivated me the most to create new frameworks, new solutions and focus a lot on narrative and expression.

Every original comic series is made differently with its own unique style of artistic collaboration. How have you both worked together to create Huge Detective?

AR: As soon as I read Jenny Zero and learned about Magenta's work, I knew I had to get a hold of him for this book! I could not have asked for a better partner and collaborator. Magenta and I have had countless Zoom meetings going back and forth on the expansiveness of this world and how to make it bigger and better.

AR: I couldn't have been invited by a better partner for this project. I really feel super happy when I can work together with such talented and interesting creators like Adam. It's amazing to be able to help build this story, and to see how each part we do opens up bigger and more exciting possibilities.

IN STORES AUGUST 2024

2004 DYNAMITE 2024 CELEBRATING TWENTY YEARS OF DYNAMITE®

It's been two decades since Dynamite began its comics publishing journey with the release of Army of Darkness: Ashes 2 Ashes #1, and since that auspicious debut the company's creative partnerships and its inventory of titles have grown into one of the most comprehensive creative catalogs in the industry. In honor of this momentous milestone, we've assembled some favorite memories from the people who have made it all possible.

NICK BARRUCCI — FOUNDER, CEO, AND PUBLISHER

It's unbelievable that it's been 20 years. It's an accomplishment that cannot be taken for granted. And we couldn't have done it without the creators, the retailers, our licensing partners, our incredible staff, and most of all, the fans — because everything we do serves our primary goal of delivering the best stories that we possibly can to our readers.

In 2014, when we were celebrating our 10th anniversary, I said that the next 10 years would be about forging new creator relationships, strengthening our existing creative partnerships, and continuing to develop great comics. I also said that those 10 years would be even more challenging than the first — and I was right! But in light of everything we've achieved since then, I think that this second decade has been even more gratifying than the first.

We've worked with fantastic creators and rights holders to publish an incredible variety of comics. In the first 10 years we brought out Army of Darkness, Red Sonja, Vampirella, The Lone Ranger, classic Battlestar Galactica and Ron Moore's new BSG, Xena, Green Hornet, The Boys, Chaos!, The Expendables, The Shadow, Zorro, The Twilight Zone, Dejah Thoris Warlord of Mars, Lord of the Jungle, and The Bionic Man, as well as packaging books and crossovers with Marvel and DC, including Marvel Zombies/Army of Darkness, Red Sonja/Spider-Man, The Avengers/Invaders, Invaders Now, Jason Vs. Freddie Vs. Ash, and many more.

And as we've grown in the last 10 years, we've added an incredible roster of new titles diversifying our line even further, including James Bond, Batman/The Shadow, Aliens/Vampirella, Red Sonja/Conan, Alice Cooper, Game of Thrones, Brandon Sanderson's White Sand, John Wick, Disney titles from Gargoyles and Darkwing Duck to Disney Villains and more, as well as our recent Warner Brothers Discovery titles ThunderCats, Space Ghost, The Powerpuff Girls, and Jonny Quest, with The Wizard of Oz and more still to come.

We've shown that we're in it for the long haul, and that our core strategies are sound.

Dynamite's mission has always been to satisfy our customers by putting out the best comics we can while working with creators we respect on properties we enjoy. And as proud as I am of our success up to now, I'm also certain that the best is yet to come. After 20 years, we're just getting started!

JOE RYBANDT — EXECUTIVE EDITOR

20 years! Actually, for me, 23 years (heading into 24). "How is that possible," you ask? "I thought Dynamite was celebrating their 20th anniversary of existence?" They are, but the parent company, Dynamic Forces, has been around a lot longer, and that's where it all began.

I've been working in comics and pop culture my entire adult life. Landing at Dynamic Forces 23 years ago put me right in the action of making comics. Dynamic Forces had been producing limited edition collectibles in the comics and entertainment space since its founding, and when it upgraded a few licenses to produce comics for Army of Darkness and Red Sonja, Dynamite Entertainment was born.

Things quickly escalated with new licenses, partners, and creators. Over the last 20 years we've expanded the worlds of Battlestar Galactica based on the groundbreaking 2000s reboot; we've built planets and codified a universe featuring the creations of Jack Kirby with Kurt Busiek and Alex Ross at the helm; we've worked with renowned creators like Matt Wagner on such historic properties as The Shadow and Green Hornet and crossed them over with Batman; we re-introduced the legendary Lone Ranger to universal acclaim; and, of course, we burned all the legends down by publishing The Boys, again working with superstars like Garth Ennis and Darick Robertson (and Russ Braun).

And now, in addition to launching flagship titles featuring new voices (like writer Torunn Grønbeek's Red Sonja), and continuing runs by iconic writers (like Christopher Priest on the equally iconic Vampirella), we've teamed up with companies like Disney and Warner Bros. Discovery to produce original comics based on their legendary characters and properties. It's pretty amazing how far we've come when I stop to think about it — the number of projects in the works with those two partners alone could keep us in comics and content for another 20 years, easy.

Of course, this is just a quick overview of our history, and I haven't even mentioned a fraction of the incredible writers, artists, colorists, letterers, and others who have been there with us over the last two decades. So, here's to the last 20 and the next 20, and thanks to YOU — readers, collectors, and fans — for being part of this incredible ride. Cheers!

HOW DID YOU FIRST GET INVOLVED WITH DYNAMITE?

JIMMY PALMIOTTI: Nick and I go way back. We met many years ago during the Event comics days in the mid-'90s, and when he was talking about starting to publish we talked a bit about the state of the field at the time and what we could do together, which became bringing Painkiller Jane over to the label. We had a really fun and exciting two years, and since then I have worked with Dynamite a few times, always happy with my experience and dealing with the wonderful people that work there.

GARTH ENNIS: Some time ago I was entertaining offers from several publishers to handle The Boys, for which things had gone slightly pear-shaped at its original home. Over the course of a week I considered a number of alternatives: an outfit whose boss was arrested for wearing someone else's skin; another run by a giant halfwit; a third which published the best comic book of the last thirty years, Concrete, next to which anything would look second-best. And with the opposition thus eliminated, I chose Dynamite.

DARICK ROBERTSON: Back in 1993 when comics were selling like crazy, a company called Dynamic Forces had me out to New Jersey alongside young Joe Madureira to do a massive signing and paid us for our signatures. They provided food and a hotel and it was a fun experience, and I met Nick Barrucci. That relationship would continue for years as Nick built his signing business into a print and statue business, and eventually into a publishing business that is today Dynamite Comics.

CHRISTOPHER PRIEST: I was brutally attacked at a casino by Dynamite Publisher Nick Barrucci, who had been stalking me for months about my possibly writing some female vampire character. Truthfully, I tried talking Nick out of it. I've been a traditional superhero guy and Vampirella is something entirely different. I also didn't see enough existing infrastructure that would appeal to me, I mean, where's Jimmy and Lois?

Vampirella had also turned too hard toward the occult, which bugs me because I'm a minister and the theology employed in most "devil" comics is made-up nonsense — i.e., Christian mythology rather than non-sectarian (general) Christian theology.

So I just kind of put out all of these objections, and Nick shot every one of them down. I would have a free hand to create my own interpretation of the character and her world, I could create her own Jimmy and Lois, and I could dial in the theology as I saw fit.

My preference was to steer Vampirella back toward science fiction, which is what Ackerman had in mind when he created her. It was never intended to be lost in all of this quasi-biblical fubar. And, above all, I wanted to make the book fun, which it really had not been. It was super-serious, and I wanted it to flex more between the dark horror and, say, the Soup Nazi from Seinfeld.

TOM SNIEGOSKI: I owed Nick Barrucci money! HA! No. I've known Nick for many, many years, and when he started Dynamite I was very much interested in the kinds of books they would be doing, and wanted a little piece of that action. And the rest is history!

GREG WEISMAN: Editor Nathan Cosby contacted me and asked me whether I'd be interested in writing a new Gargoyles comic book. I couldn't say yes fast enough!

DAVID PEPOSE: I've known Nick Barrucci at Dynamite for more than 15 years, dating back to my earliest days as a comics journalist. When I wound up making the leap to becoming a comics creator in my own right, I stayed on Dynamite's radar as I built up my catalog of titles — and when Dynamite announced their new deal with Warner Bros. Discovery, my editor Joe Rybandt reached out to see if I'd be interested in tackling Space Ghost — and it's been an incredible experience ever since!

DREW MOSS: My first gig with Dynamite was through Nate Cosby. I was looking for work and emailed him asking about covers. He said if I wanted something more substantial he may have a book I could do. I did some samples and the next thing I knew I was doing 12 issues of Vampirella/Red Sonja with Jordie Bellaire writing. It was an amazing gig.

FRED VAN LENTE: Nick invited me to come up with a zombie parody after enjoying my work on Marvel Zombies. I did The Mocking Dead with soon-to-be-D&D-superstar Max Dunbar and it remains one of my favorite all-time projects. In fact, Max gave me the final page of the series and it's hanging on the wall of my office!

DECLAN SHALVEY: I think the first work I ever did for Dynamite was a cover for Jeff Parker and Evan Shaner's Flash Gordon #1 back in 2013. It was Nate Cosby, my current editor on ThunderCats, who brought me in and has continued to pull me back once every few years. Thanks Nate!

GREG PAK: In my second year of working as a professional comics writer, I got a call from Nick Barrucci, who had followed my work at Marvel and saw I had a strong sci fi bent. As soon as I found out he had the Battlestar Galactica license, I couldn't think of anything else. I'd loved the original series when I was a kid and fell head over heels for the Ron Moore reimagining as an adult. We talked, I worked up a pitch, Ron Moore approved it, and we were off to the races!

ELLIOTT KALAN: I first got involved with Dynamite when editor Nate Cosby reached out 10 (!) years ago to ask me and my Flop House podcast co-hosts to contribute stories for the Flash Gordon Holiday Special. We said "Yeah! Definitely!" I wish it was a more exciting story than that, but honestly, better for the comic to be exciting than for my life to be, right?

JIM ZUB: Back in 2012, Erik Mona, the head of Paizo, had read Skullkickers, my creator-owned sword & sorcery comic series, and felt I would be a solid fit to write Pathfinder, the Dynamite comic based on Paizo's hit tabletop RPG. Pathfinder would go on to be my first monthly comic writing credit and help establish my career.

GEORGE KAMBADAIS: My first work with Dynamite was a John Carter of Mars miniseries. I worked on that book for a while and I absolutely loved the experience. I knew and loved the character and the universe. I loved Chuck Brown's work and I was so excited when Nate Cosby (our fantastic editor) put us together in that book! I liked working on that project so much!

WHAT WAS YOUR FAVORITE DYNAMITE TITLE THAT YOU HAVE WORKED ON?

DARICK ROBERTSON: Well, The Boys! 'Nuff said.

GARTH ENNIS: That would be Dear Billy in the Battlefields series, drawn by the always excellent Peter Snejbjerg. It was a melancholy little war story about a nurse who took revenge on her assailants in a very singular way, and ultimately suffered for it. Turned out exactly as I'd hoped, I still think about it from time to time.

TOM SNEGOSKI: I believe the first thing I ever did for Dynamite was something called Monster War, which was a crossover with Top Cow. I wrote that with my brother from another mother, Christopher Golden, and it featured our takes on the Universal Monsters versus the Top Cow characters — Lara Croft, Witchblade, Magdalen, The Darkness, etc. The art on the book was by the incredible Joyce Chin and Vitor Ishimura. I have a soft spot in my heart for this one.

But the REAL favorite has to be Vampirella. Me and her go WAY back, and to get the chance to write her again at Dynamite was really awesome.

JEANNINE ACHESON: Vampirella is of course my favorite, and probably my favorite book within the Vampirella universe is Tom's and my latest take on the character, Vampirella: Dark Reflections. It's a really fun romp, and it's out June 5th!

RODNEY BARNES: James Bond: Himeros was my favorite Dynamite title so far. 007 was tracking down a sex trafficking overlord. Was a great opportunity for me to write outside of what I'd done to that point.

JIMMY PALMIOTTI: I got to work with my wife, Amanda Conner, on a Red Sonja series called The Invincible Red Sonja about a year ago. We handled the writing and Moritat did the interior art, and it was a total blast. I have loved the character since forever, and getting the chance to write this giant adventure was a dream come true.

CHRISTOPHER PRIEST: Well, Vampirella, of course! It's a book about a single girl trying to make it on her own in the big city. Only she happens to be a vampire from outer space with a conniving mother and evil twin sister and a whack job ex-love interest all conspiring to make her life hell.

DECLAN SHALVEY: Well, I'm really enjoying ThunderCats currently, but the James Bond: M one-shot I wrote and did a cover for, with great art by P.J. Holden, has a special place in my heart. It was a big deal for me to work on something like Bond, but also through a slightly more personal lens by having it set within Irish/Northern Irish politics. I love crime and espionage stuff, so it was right up my alley, and one of my favorite stories I've gotten to write.

TONY FLEECES: Gotta be Army of Darkness Forever. It's a real thrill to write what basically amounts to the SEQUEL to Army of Darkness — I'm having a blast on that. Also, though, Trish Forstner and I did a run of doggy variants after our book Stray Dogs was a big hit, and I still really love those too.

LUCIO PARRILLO: I don't have a particular series that I love working on the most, but if I really have to choose, I prefer Vampirella and Red Sonja. I'm a big fan of the classical style, and with these characters I can paint using traditional techniques in my personal style, with the human figure predominating. Vampirella gives me the chance to add a touch of the macabre, which I love, and Red Sonja gives me the opportunity to create battle scenes with action and fighting like the great battles we find in paintings of the past.

DAVID PEPOSE: It has to be Space Ghost! We're bringing the legendary Hanna-Barbera character back to his superheroic roots, and reintroducing his amazing supporting cast and his iconic bench of villains to a brand-new generation. It's a sci-fi superhero epic that doubles as a heartfelt coming-of-age story and a love letter to the classic '60s cartoon!

SARAH HOYT: I loved working on Barbarella, series two and three. My favorite was series three, in which Barbarella explores a variety of worlds in the process of tracking down an intergalactic supervillain — making love AND war along the way!

RIK HOSKIN: Oh, it's dangerous to play favorites, because someone somewhere gets upset. My first Dynamite title was Mercy Thompson back in 2014. It was a supernatural adventure series, and that played to my strengths and interests really well. We always remember our first!

FRED VAN LENTE: Next to The Walking Dead? I'd have to say Jennifer Blood, which, if you count the Ninjettes miniseries, remains one of my longer runs at 20 or so issues. There's just something so simple about the ruthless vigilante genre and someone so out there in terms of her methods that she makes even the criminals she hunts somewhat sympathetic. There's just an infinite number of stories you can tell and things in real life you can comment on and, usually, fill full of bullets!

JONATHAN LAU: All the projects I've been involved in hold a special place, such as Bionic Man, Thunderbolt, and Solar. I particularly enjoy fantasy titles like Red Sonja, and I'm drawn to series that incorporate crossovers like Pathfinder and Chaos, where I get to illustrate characters from other titles and companies. One series that stands out is Phil Hester's Black Terror from Project Superpowers. I found immense enjoyment in the relentless action that drove each issue forward. The narrative unfolds with the progression of action, reminiscent of the floor-by-floor action scenes from Bruce Lee's Game of Death. It's uncommon to see comics written in such a manner anymore. My only issue looking back is that it makes me wish I could redo all of those titles in my current style.

JOSEPH MICHAEL LINSNER: My favorite Dynamite title is Dawn & Vampirella! Nick gave me the opportunity to have my character Dawn meet Vampi, the iconic character whom I grew up loving. That was a dream come true for me. Thanks, Nick!

GREG WEISMAN: Uh, well, I'd have to go with Gargoyles, but I also truly enjoyed working on Gargoyles: Dark Ages and Gargoyles: Quest.

ALEX COX: King Kong: The Great War, which is still ongoing, and is about an Imperial German naval crew that is stranded on Kong's island a few years before the events of the 1933 movie.

SOO LEE: I really enjoyed drawing Red Sonja, but I think my favorite is Maleficent. It's not every day you get to work on a cool character like that.

GREG PAK: I'm loving the Lilo & Stitch book I'm working on right now with editor Nate Cosby, artist Giulia Giacomino, letter Jeff Eckleberry, and cultural consultant Moana McAdams. But my sentimental favorite might be the James Bond: 007 book I did a few years ago with Nate and a slew of amazing artists, including Marc Laming, Stephen Mooney, and Eric Gapstur. We got to make Odd Job sexy; he was a fun equal, rival, and eventual wary partner to Bond, and it was an absolute blast.

AMANDA DEIBERT: Oh, my favorite has got to be doing the run for Darkwing Duck! It was a joy to write the Terror That Flaps in the Night! I was able to play with the nostalgia of the '90s cartoons while bringing in a modern feel and bring back all the favorite villains.

ELLIOTT KALAN: My favorite title I've written for Dynamite is coincidentally the one I'm working on right now! Hercules is an all-new story about the Disney hero of the same name, as he grapples with being a mortal while trying to figure out who is abducting the gods of Olympus. I'm getting to work on a much bigger narrative canvas than I've had the chance to use before, and I'm having a lot of fun balancing humor and action. The first issue just came out, but I'm currently working on the climax to the overall storyline, and it's getting very big and very epic!

SARA FRAZZETTA: Dynamite gave me an opportunity to write my own Vampirella series which was just so incredibly kind of them. I co-wrote Vampirella: Dead Flowers with Bob Freeman. We had a great time creating that limited series. Alberto Locatelli illustrated the most epic art for the series. We are all forever grateful.

DANIEL MAINE: I have to admit it, my heart is divided. Chastity was my first assignment for Dynamite where I also had the chance to write part of the series, but Vampireverse and all the Vampirellas are being a really awesome journey, and since I helped create some of the variants I also have a lot of love for them. Also, "my" team has been the same in all the Vampireverse books, and I really enjoy working with Tom, Jeannine, Francesca, and Taylor. They are the best art team I could wish for.

JIM ZUB: Unbreakable Red Sonja was a miniseries celebrating 50 years of the She-Devil With a Sword, and it was also a way for me to introduce a new villain and ratify a bunch of different interpretations of her over the years. My love of sword & sorcery is bone-deep, so getting to work on two fun fantasy titles at Dynamite has been a thrill.

DREW MOSS: My favorite title is my current one, ThunderCats. I love working with Declan Shalvey. We clicked from the moment we met. It's been a joy and pleasure working with Jeff, and Martinas as well. Nate Cosby is the best editor!

DAN PANOSIAN: For me it has to be Savage Red Sonja! I love the character, and I was fortunate to work with an amazing team. A dream come true in so many ways!

WALTER GEOVANI: Hard to choose one, really, but I'll go with the crossover Prophecy. I got to draw Sonja, Vampirella, and... wait for it... ASH from Evil Dead! Come on! What more an artist could ask for? Also, there were other cool characters in the crossover, all published by Dynamite.

GEORGE KAMBADAIS: I have been working with Dynamite for some time now, and each time I feel like the current thing I am working on is the correct answer to this question — so I am either a very excitable person, or (and this is the most likely scenario) working on these projects has been getting even better with every single issue! My last project was Gargoyles, one of my favorite TV series growing up, on which I got to work with the original creator Greg Weisman, and I am now working on Disney's Hercules, which is one of my favorite Disney movies starring my favorite heroes from Greek mythology.

KAREN S. DARBOE: My favorite one has to be the most recent work I've done for The Powerpuff Girls, which will release in July! I did three interlocking covers, a cover for each heroine, and it was one of the most challenging and fun projects I've had in a while. This is because I'm usually oriented towards a more realistic style of drawing, but for the first time I was faced with something that's almost the complete opposite of that look, so I had to change my regular working approach in order to incorporate the classic Powerpuff Girls aesthetic while also preserving my own feeling and direction.

KELLY THOMPSON: Well, since I've only done one title prior to The Powerpuff Girls, I have to say Nancy Drew — but I suspect that would have been my answer anyway, as that was just a pure delight. I loved the Nancy Drew characters coming in, but I was really in love with them when we were done. But it was the team that really made that book special — Jenn St-Onge's work was so perfect for Nancy Drew, and with Nate editing, Triona Farrell on colors, and Ariana Maher on lettering, it was just the dream team. No drama, great book. It's what you always hope for in this job.

DO YOU REMEMBER THE FIRST DYNAMITE BOOK YOU EVER READ?

TONY FLEECES: Oh, yeah, easy. Army of Darkness: Ashes 2 Ashes #1. I was a HUGE Nick Bradshaw fan just from seeing his stuff on the internet. I can't remember if that was before or after he did Danger Girl... Anyway, it was incredible. Easily the second-best Army of Darkness book they ever published.

GREG WEISMAN: Probably the Batman/Shadow crossover comic.

DARICK ROBERTSON: I believe the first three I paid attention to were The Green Hornet, The Lone Ranger, and Buck Rogers, as Dynamite was fulfilling the dream I had of seeing these once-popular characters handled with modern sensibilities, and they had great creators involved who were clearly having a good time working on these characters. That tradition continues today with Space Ghost!

JEFF PARKER: Pretty sure it was Zorro? That was probably when I thought, "I better keep an eye on Barrucci's company, they're tackling good stuff." It's been a wild ride; I've had the chance to write James Bond, John Carter of Mars, and now some very cool Disney titles are on the way.

DAVID PEPOSE: It has to be Green Hornet by Kevin Smith and Jonathan Lau! It was such a dynamic, exciting debut for the classic pulp hero, with Kevin's crackling dialogue and Jonathan's hyperkinetic artwork serving as the perfect entry point for newcomers and diehard fans alike. In many ways, everything has come full circle for me and Dynamite, now that I'm lucky enough to be working with Jonathan on Space Ghost — his already stratospheric work has only gotten better with time!

GARTH ENNIS: The Boys #7, which I was checking for errors prior to publication. There were none.

RIK HOSKIN: I picked up the first three or four issues of Red Sonja, including the zero issue, which I think was the first book Dynamite released. However, the one that stayed with me, and that I stayed with as a reader, was Legenderry, Bill Willingham's steampunk take on various franchises — including Red Sonja, funnily enough!

RODNEY BARNES: I believe it was an Elvira book. Remember it being really fun.

LUCIO PARRILLO: The first Dynamite book I read was Vampirella, many years ago. I have always been fascinated by this character — sexy, heroic, strong and macabre... For me it is an honor to be able to paint the covers of Vampirella.

TOM SNEGOSKI: I think it might've been the first issue of Eric Trautmann's Vampirella run. I wanted to see what the competition was up to.

FRED VAN LENTE: You know, I am pretty sure it was that original Pathfinder run by Jim Zub and Tom Garcia, which was prescient, because I ended up doing the Fumbus one-shot with Tom many years later — he's great.

ALEX COX: Not specifically, but I do remember getting very excited about the 2006 Lone Ranger comic, with incredible art by Sergio Cariello. I was a retailer at the time and hand-sold a lot of those.

DECLAN SHALVEY: Oh, that's a good question... I think it was probably The Boys. I can't remember when that was, over 15 years ago at this stage... but I'm a big Garth Ennis fan so I was absolutely going to check that out.

JONATHAN LAU: I may be wrong, but it could be Xena or Robocop. My cloudy memory may suggest Battlestar Galactica. I can't remember which issue, but I'm certain it was for research purposes.

DREW MOSS: That Army of Darkness book Nick Bradshaw was drawing in the early 2000s. I remember falling in love with the art.

GREG PAK: It was probably the first Red Sonja book in 2005. It's kind of wild — I'm realizing I came on board to write Battlestar Galactica when Dynamite was pretty young. The company's so well known for Red Sonja now, but the first issue of that series came out just a year before our first BSG book! Congrats to all of us for hanging around so long!

ELLIOTT KALAN: I think it was the Jeff Parker Flash Gordon series that the Holiday Special lived in the continuity of. I was impressed by the way Dynamite finds new ways to use classic characters, and I continue to be impressed by that to this day!

DANIEL MAINE: My first Dynamite book was Legenderry. What could I say, just give me an alternate reality and you've got me reading it.

KAREN S. DARBOE: I totally do, it was Aliens vs Vampirella, one of my favorite crossovers EVER! I'm a huge Alien fan, and seeing that universe collide with the one of the most strong and gorgeous female characters I've ever loved was an absolute instant buy for me!

JIM ZUB: I've been reading Dynamite Comics right from the start with Army of Darkness and the first Red Sonja series!

WALTER GEOVANI: Well, Dynamite books are not published in my country regularly, especially back then. But I remember that a friend of mine made a cover for Painkiller Jane #0 and he gave me one of his comps, so that was the one I read first.

DAN PANOSIAN: Mine — Savage Red Sonja! Just kidding — it was probably Red Team by Garth Ennis.

KELLY THOMPSON: Probably The Shadow — which for some reason is the only comics catchphrase my mother knows. Life is a mystery!

GEORGE KAMBADAIS: Hmm, that's a tough one. The first that comes to mind (even though it's by far not the first I read!) is Green Hornet #1, which came out in 2010. I saw the amazing cover by Alex Ross in a comic shop and I knew I had to buy it! Then I read that Kevin Smith was the writer (I'm a huge Kevin Smith fan and I have been since the late '90s), and the art — the art by Johnathan Lau was fantastic!

JOSEPH MICHAEL LINSNER: I don't remember the very first comic, but I remember being blown away by the great Red Sonja comics Dynamite was publishing. It was so cool seeing Sonja being kept alive in such a glorious way.

SARAH HOYT: Jim Butcher's Dresden Files. They are a fantastic complement to the novels.

JOIN THE ADVENTURE WITH JONNY QUEST & THE CREW ALONGSIDE FAN-FAVORITE WRITER JOE CASEY!

Jonny Quest was of course originally an animated television show, one of the star properties in the beloved Hanna-Barbera library. You've been greatly involved in animation yourself, through your creative group Man of Action, working with big franchises like Ben 10 and Generator Rex. Is there any additional layer in your approach to this new Jonny Quest comic series given both its and your histories in animation?

That's an interesting question. To be honest, I'm not really sure. I can say that speaking comic-book language comes much more naturally to me than speaking broadcast animation language. The latter I've had to learn, the former is just in my DNA. And, to be honest, Jonny Quest — the original 1964 series that only lasted one incredible season — was pretty much ubiquitous in my Saturday morning TV viewing growing up, but my first real, up-close experience with the IP was the fantastic series written by the great William Messner-Loebs and published by Comico in the mid-'80s. For anyone who was there, like I was (even if I was only just a kid), that series was top quality and well-loved by many. So, it's interesting to be coming at this particular book with that kind of personal history. Then again, it also makes perfect sense for me as a creator, since I've always relished the opportunity to put my stamp on these kinds of timeless icons. So I'm proud to be any kind of link in that chain.

For those who may not be as familiar with the original show, or the previous comic book takes, how would you personally sum up the mission and the appeal of Jonny Quest and his crew?

Jonny Quest has been described in many ways. Action-adventure. Science fiction.

Espionage. Cliffhanger serial. Actually, it's all of those things. That's part of its appeal, one that's endured for more years than I've been alive. The premise is beautifully simple: a boy accompanies his scientist father on extraordinary travels, encountering all sorts of wild phenomena along the way, things both explainable and inexplicable. Not to mention, the original show was a benchmark in ambition and quality. So who wouldn't be entertained by that?

Adventure is the name of the game here — can you share with fans a bit on your execution of the showcases for those tales? At least initially, are you aiming for a bit of a longer epic across multiple issues, or are we going to be moving quickly along the way from one exploit to the next?

The hope is that we're maintaining the bouncy spirit of the original TV show. From one episode to the next, Jonny Quest always had a particular dramatic rhythm that was completely unique. We want our book to have that same kind of vibe. Plus, the fact that Benton and Jonny are father and son automatically makes this a generational story. We're taking that angle and really running with it, taking that specific generational aspect to the extreme in ways that, we think, deepen the characters and give them the proper amount of gravitas that we demand from our beloved genre fiction.

Jonny Quest is the titular young American boy, but he's usually joined by a wider cast of characters. His father, Dr. Benton Quest, is a genius scientist often leading the way. "Race" Bannon is a special agent tasked with protecting Jonny and teaching him a range of skills. Hadji is the orphaned adopted son of Dr. Quest, and Jonny's brother. Last, but certainly not least, Jonny's dog Bandit is always along for the ride. Which characters have been the most fun to write so far?

Frankly, all of them contain various appeal for me as a writer. Getting the voices right — writing them so they sound (so to speak) like they stepped right out of the original cartoon — has been a real blast. If readers read our series and can hear a young Tim Matheson's voice in their heads when it comes to Jonny's dialogue, then we've really accomplished something. Not to mention, I'm not sure that any previous comics, including the Comico series, has ever written these characters as period-specific. I mean, the opening scene of the Free Comic Book Day story clearly states that we begin the story in the year 1964. Time is a major component in our book.

Are there any other characters planned to pop up that fans may recognize from prior iterations? Or perhaps even some new characters making their way into the story?

Both, actually. Without giving too much away, we'll be seeing all sorts of characters that have been hugely important to the mythology established in the original TV series. The story we're telling spans decades, so part of the fun is seeing certain favorite characters at different times in their lives. And then we're also introducing some all-new legacy characters, as well. There are a lot of pieces to this puzzle we're building.

In addition to yourself, the series has a really top flight creative team from top to bottom. First off, we have to mention the perfect match of Chris Samnee on the lead covers, alongside Chad Hardin and Tom Raney, a trio of talents that fit the franchise so well. And the major star of the book alongside you will be Sebastián Piriz, who is drawing the series. We recommend that readers follow him on their favorite platforms, as he often shares incredible works in process and fan art. His style strikes a great balance between modern and classic — how has the collaboration been so far with what he's bringing to the table?

When it comes to depicting the world of Jonny Quest, I'd be hard-pressed to think of a better artist. When I see Sebastián's pages on this series, I automatically hear the original Hoyt Curtin theme song in my head. He's that good. But make no mistake, Sebastián's not aping Doug Wildey or Alex Toth, although he's certainly captured their spirit in his work. He's just knocking this one right outta the park. So I'd have to admit, the collaboration has been as smooth as I could've ever hoped for. With each issue, Sebastián and I are getting more and more in sync. And we started out pretty damn strong, so that's really saying something.

Following the shattering events of issue #670, Draculina is compelled to switch realities with her evil alternative self Katie, and is imprisoned in the astral plane known as "The Dark World" — where she is hunted through the streets of 1969 New York City by malicious creatures she herself created as a child!

The Dark World, which responds to the subconscious of those trapped within it, has produced a hell of Draculina's own making. But one of the living constructs who seem to exist only to torment her may hold the key to her survival!

Written by comics legend CHRISTOPHER PRIEST and illustrated by special guest artist IVÁN F. SILVA, Vampirella #671 opens a dark new chapter for the Daughters of Drakulon — and features appropriately atmospheric covers from LUCIO PARRILLO, ELIAS CHATZOUDIS, CARLA COHEN, ERGÜN GÜNDÜZ, and cosplay by RACHEL HOLLON!

In this issue: It's all heading towards the end — and by "the end," we mean the Apocalypse! As our heroes, villains, and timelines all start to converge on a single meeting point, the Necronomicon takes on even stranger forms and powers. Will Ash and Sheila find a way to not only remain alive, but also stay together? History would say "no," but Mama Williams didn't raise no quitters!

Picking up where Army of Darkness: The Director's Cut left off, Army of Darkness Forever comes full circle in its penultimate issue — precisely plotted by writer TONY FLEEC'S and artist POP MHAN and expertly enhanced with covers from FLEEC'S, BJORN BAREND'S, ARTHUR SUYDAM, and CHRIS BURNHAM

ALL CARDSTOCK COVERS!

New Yorkers have quickly become "believers" as hordes of SWEETIE'S fans adoringly line up outside the wildly popular lower east side "SWEETIE CANDY VIGILANTE" sweet shop, anxiously waiting to savor the latest delectable SWEET TREAT drop.

"DREC ACTION! NEWS," the namesake news network of a corporate media conglomerate owned and controlled by the corrupt mayor of NYC crashes the party and quickly gets schooled that it's impolite to show up without an invite! It's clear to Candy Wolf, Pixie, and Tinsel that the news crew's objective is to stage an ambush interview with SWEETIE, the Candy Vigilante squad, and their newly minted fans, with the intent of maligning Sweetie and her business on nationally syndicated TV.

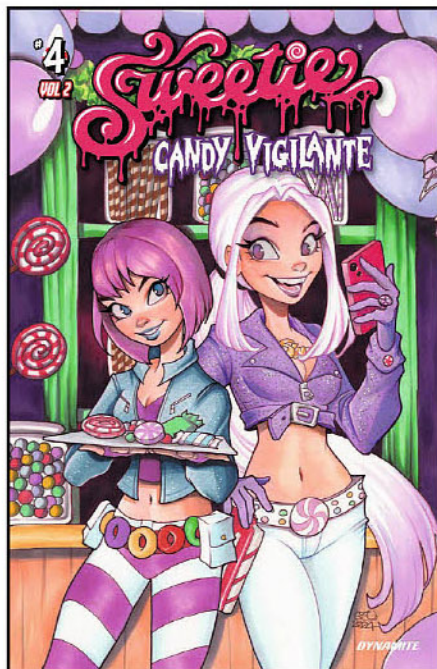

At the helm is the mayor's self-centered, saccharine-laced daughter-turned-news anchor, Athena Dreck. Acting under direct orders from her love interest (and Sweetie's arch-nemesis) — the dour, perpetual schemer, crime lord Bart Volgare — Athena arrives at the shop with camera crew in tow to portray the uplifting sweets as "unhealthy" and "addictive." Unfazed, our GOOD-natured Sweetie lets the "jelly roll" and flips Athena's script. Awe-struck and caught in Sweetie's hypnotic gaze, does Athena believe in her magic? Will she "bite" on Sweetie's challenge to sample her latest treats while on LIVE TV, inevitably revealing to her viewers if she's a good witch or a bad witch...?

Will the Mayor and Bart feel the sweet heat of the people? Is Bart's obsession with Sweetie unjustified? Is her mission to bring the sweetness back to the city a clear and present danger to Volgare's unsavory power and greed? Much to the displeasure of the salty lords of corruption, something within Sweetie's delicacies is having an incredibly GOOD impact on the population of NYC, and in the process, she's becoming more powerful!

DOES SWEETIE HAVE A KRYPTONITE — AND IS BART ON THE TRAIL OF IT?

PICK UP VOL. 2, ISSUE #4, "THE CITY THAT ALWAYS SWEETS," TO FIND OUT ALL THIS AND LOTS MORE GUMDROPS!

Also includes a FREE MP3 download of "THE LAND OF HATCHY MILATCHY,"

LAND OF THE LIVING GODS TP

(W) Mogajane (A) Santtos

It is said that when the world dies, the spirits of the first people will return to witness the last days of humanity. Well, the spirits have arrived, and the end is here. But not everyone has given up hope. Naledi, a teenage girl living in the deserted city once called Johannesburg, has always believed that there is a land hidden away in time where the gods still live. And where there are gods, there are miracles. Perhaps even miracles that are big enough to save our dying planet. And so, after a lifetime of isolation, Naledi will head out into the unknown with little to hold onto but her faith — and her magical pet plant, Buyo. A fairy tale for the times in which we find ourselves, brought to life by South African writer and producer Isaac Mogajane (Matwetwe, Catching Feelings) and Brazilian artist Santtos (Samurai Doggy, Night Shift), Land of the Living Gods will introduce you to a world of wonder and cruelty, beauty, and perseverance — and will leave you profoundly changed. LAST SPACE RACE VOLUME 1 TP

(W) Peter Calloway (A) Alex Shibao

It started as an anomaly. An outlier in the noise that's so common in astronomical data. But the truth sends the United States—and the world-careening into what will become humanity's LAST SPACE RACE. Leading the effort for the United States is one man, Sasha Balodis. A fun-loving tech billionaire-turned-aerospace titan, Sasha's seemingly perfect life has been gripped by recent tragedy. (W) Elliott Kalan (A) Andrea Mutti
Four years ago, a masked slasher began stalking the streets of New York City. Maniac Harry is inhuman, unkillable, and unstoppable. Which is why the authorities' solution has been to ignore him, and let New Yorkers adapt to a world where death can strike at any moment. When Maniac Harry starts killing his way through the subway system, trauma-haunted political aide Gina Greene and disgraced NYPD detective Zelda Pettibone become determined to go rogue and destroy him. But how can they fight a monster when they can't fight City Hall? ABLAZE is shining the spotlight on the wide variety of genres and fantastic works within our catalogue! Our Spotlight on Fantasy includes two comic titles – The Fairy Universe and The Dragon Universe – bundled together under a specially discounted price.

In The Dragon Universe: Dragons reign above the eternal snows or in the depths of the abyss... They are marvelous, magical, malicious creatures... But where do these winged creatures with sparkling scales and fearsome claws come from? This collection of illustrations on the theme of dragons brings together the best illustrators and comic book authors from around the world, from John Howe (The Lord of the Rings, The Chronicles of Narnia), to Todd Lockwood (Dungeons & Dragons), Olivier Ledroit (Chronicles of the Black Moon), Adrian Smith (Warhammer), and more... They've pooled their talents in a Tolkien-style universe where dragons coexist alongside other fantasy races, resulting in this illustrated encyclopedia, which combines an extraordinary history of dragons, with gorgeous, fully painted art that captures every majestic and fearsome detail of these wonderful, scaly behemoths!

In The Fairy Universe: Our world is made up of mysterious and elusive spirits: the Elves and the Faes. Once we accept this evidence, we still have to recognize them, approach them, and sometimes be wary of them... It took our illustrator all his dexterity to be able to approach them, sketch them, and give us this guide to the most remarkable Faes and Elves. The Fairy Universe offers the reader the keys to this magical and poetic world through hundreds of drawings by renowned artist Olivier Ledroit, laid over double-page spreads in stunning watercolor and pencil, with illuminating words by Olivier and Laurent Souille. TRADE PAPERBACK!

LIQUID KILL follows sadist-slaughtering vigilantes as they encounter pure evil in a blood-soaked cyberpunk future (à la GHOST IN THE SHELL meets JOHN WICK) written by the creators of the critically-acclaimed series IT EATS WHAT FEEDS IT and with stunning visuals by artist Gabriel Iumazark (Boom! Studios).

For the staff and clientele of a mysterious island hotel, it's just another night of luxury and vice until members of Liquid Kill (a notoriously violent, all-female militia), lay siege. Demanding compliance or death as they gather intelligence, the adrenaline quickly floods the halls as the team eliminates all threats with ease in their search for their kidnapped leader. That is until something is unleashed... something hungry.

AVAILABLE IN A SPECIAL
1ST EDITION VARIANT
LIMITED TO 1000 COPIES!

"Slick, cool, hip, and razor-sharp... Gabriel Iumazark's eye for dramatic camera angles is stellar, and the settings are nasty, reflecting the mood of the characters."

GENRE: ACTION/FANTASY

It all starts here with the three-part launch of the epic new shared Luchaverse! The world's most famous luchadores battle in the ring by day, and serve humanity as monster hunters and world protectors by night. In this series, Masked Republic Comics and Massive Publishing bring back the glory and tradition of real-life lucha libre stars in comic books, setting the stage for a new era filled with epic cross-genre action in a shared universe.

In this second installment of the epic new shared Luchaverse, Brothers Penta Zero M and Rey Fenix, "The Lucha Brothers," have been the sport's dominant tag team for the last decade but success in the ring isn't enough. Looking for more, Penta embarks on a dangerous quest to locate an ancient source of unimaginable power which could change the future of mankind forever!

"Los Cadetes del Espacio" Solar & Super Astro hold the most arcane secrets of The Luchaverse. Seemingly the sole survivors of a centuries-long war, the duo explored the universe only to return to Earth and live as champion luchadores for 50 years. When the Lucha brothers actions cause cosmic repercussions, Solar & Super Astro must suit up once again to protect the cosmos in their greatest fight yet!

"The Luchaverse is a nutty place where wrestlers square off against demons, yetis, and robots. And yet, it has the soul of a family drama. Drop me off in the Luchaverse anytime."

CRAIG CERMAK

This is it... this is the moment our horror one-shots have led to... THE CURSED LIBRARY! When we last left off in Madam Satan: Hell on Earth, Jinx has the former Queen of the Underworld trapped in the mysterious library, as her father-bestowed demon powers have intensified. To stop Jinx from becoming like her father, her best friend Danni Malloy must rescue and convince Madam Satan to guide her through Hell itself to find the one thing that can possibly save her friend's soul—Jinx's mom. Along the way, they'll also discover a number of faces they've seen before, though only in the pages of the terrifying tomes within the cursed library. This three-issue limited series event tells a story about the bonds that tie us together and how the only thing that can save the world from evil is radical love. It's Riverdale's Return of the Jedi meets Dante's Inferno. A three-part event that will close the door on the Cursed Library and usher in a whole new chapter of horror stories.

ER: This is the first time in my career I've been asked to help lead an event of such magnitude for a publisher, so I'm really trying not to freak out. Fortunately, I have a lot of help, especially from my co-writer/developer, Magdalene Visaggio. My only goal here is to ensure a quality story, and Mags guarantees it. Her ability to think holistically and outside the box so quickly and naturally has sharpened the series into something special. Plus, the entire Archie team is beyond supportive and super invested in the process. I'm honestly a little stunned. I never thought in a million years that my journey with Madam Satan would make it this far, but four years later... here we are. I'm beyond thankful she gets to go out in style.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

ELIOT RAHAL is a best-selling and acclaimed writer and creator from Minneapolis most known for his work in comics. (Bleed Them Dry, Hot Lunch Special, and Basic Witch with Emily Hampshire).

CC: Playing in the Archie Comics world has been extremely satisfying, between the lively characters, the comedy/horror blend, and Jinx's gusto for rock and roll! It's a thrill to be a part of Jinx's world as it expands into more epic proportions—journeying into the depths of Hell—an artist's dream come true! And I hope the readers get a kick or two out of it as much as I am.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

CRAIG CERMAK is a comic book artist and alumnus of The Kubert School who's worked on various titles such as Archie Comics' Jinx: A Cursed Life, Jinx: Grim Fairy Tales, London Horror Comic, DC's Saved By the Belle Reve, A Man Among Ye, Red Team, and Elvira: Mistress of the Dark.

All John Cardy ever wanted was to be recognized for his talents at magic tricks and sleight of hand. He's talented, but not enough to get noticed for it until he comes across a (unknown to him) cursed ruby. This ruby grants John the power of invisibility. As Kardak the Mystic, he performs feats no one else can with this magic. Unfortunately for him, going invisible isn't just a trick of the eyes, but rather entering another realm parallel to our own. And something inside that realm wants to use Kardak to enter our world for dark purposes.

THE ALL-NEW FANTASTICAL ONE-SHOT TAKES THE STAGE

AUGUST 14, 2024

CREATOR FEATURE: JOE CORALLO & BUTCH MAPA

JC: The first assignment I got from Archie involved incorporating Kardak the Mystic into a five-page story, and he's been hiding in the back of my mind ever since. Getting this opportunity to really focus on further fleshing out and updating this Golden Age character has just been an incredible experience for me.

I revisited some of his original appearances, read a bunch of more contemporary Archie Comics, watched some episodes of Archie's Weird Mysteries (streaming on Tubi) and clips of illusionists including Criss Angel and David Blaine to prepare myself for scripting this story

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Joe Corallo is an award-winning editor and writer of comics. As a writer, he collaborated with Liana Kangas on the series She Said Destroy at Vault Comics and TKO Shorts #1: Seeds of Eden, Rachel Pollack on The Never-Ending Party through ComiXology Originals, as well as having written Becstar, Dahlia In The Dark, and King Arthur and the Knights of Justice for Mad Cave Studios. He has previously contributed to Archie Comics having written stories for Jinx: Grim Fairy Tales and Happy Horrdays. As an editor, he's worked on a number of comics, graphic novels, and anthologies across multiple publishers including Black Mask Studios, A Wave Blue World, ComiXology Originals, Mad Cave Studios, and Dynamite Entertainment.

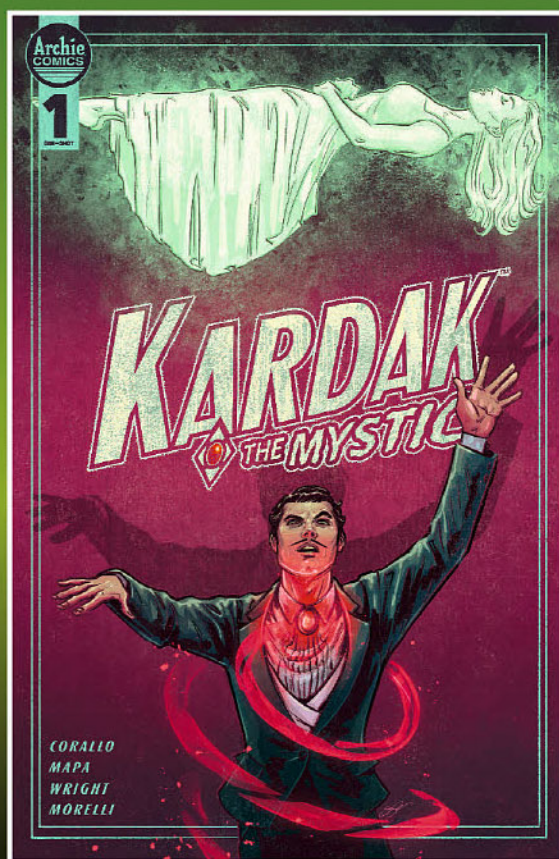

BM: I'm obviously thrilled anytime I get to play in the Archie playground! Working on a lesser known character like Kardak is right up my alley, as I get more freedom to reintroduce him to a new audience. I'm looking forward to modernizing the magician, while paying homage to his history. And I can't ask for a better dance partner than Joe, who already has experience with Kardak and his world.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Butch Mapa is a comic book artist who has worked on properties such as the Avengers, Bill and Ted, Cheech and Chong, and Star Wars for IDW/Marvel, Z2, Black Mask, and others. Kardak will be his third project for Archie, as he has previously contributed on the Happy Horrdays anthology, as well as handling solo art duties on Strange Science.

 (A) David Mazzucchelli
 In 1986, Frank Miller and David Mazzucchelli produced this groundbreaking reinterpretation of the origin of Batman: who he is and how he came to be. Sometimes careless and naive, this Dark Knight is far from the flawless vigilante he is today. In his first year on the job, Batman feels his way around a Gotham City far darker than the one he left. His solemn vow to extinguish the town's criminal element is only half the battle. Along with Lieutenant James Gordon, the Dark Knight must also fight a police force more corrupt than the scum in the streets. Batman: Year One stands next to Batman: The Dark Knight Returns on the mantle of greatest Batman graphic novels of all time. The entire groundbreaking story is included in this 14 x 21 inch collection, the same size as most of the pages were drawn. This edition includes the complete graphic novel and a new introduction by David Mazzucchelli. (STL326852) (C: 0-1-2)

JIM LEE DC LEGENDS ARTIST'S EDITION HC

(W/A) Jim Lee

With more than 30 years of illustration experience, Jim Lee is one of the most accomplished comic book artists of all time. This Artist's Edition illuminates his impact on DC Comics and the graphic novel world. Jim Lee began his career at Marvel comics in the mid-1980s. Rising in popularity at a rapid pace, he soon took over the company's flagship title and made it his own: The X-Men. In the '90s, Lee formed his own company, WildStorm Productions, which was later bought by DC Comics, allowing artists the opportunity to draw the adventures of some of comics' oldest and most iconic superheroes: Batman, Superman, and Wonder Woman, to name a few. This Artist's Edition will focus on 25 years of Jim Lee's storied career, showcasing his rendition of the Dark Knight Detective, as well as the last son of Krypton, all the while placing his own unique stamp on each character. Additionally, there will be examples of WildC.A.T.s and other pre-DC work. (STL326858) (C: 0-1-2)

CEREBUS VOLUME 5: JAKA'S STORY (REMASTERED EDITION) TP

(W/A/CA) Dave Sim

Jaka's Story, the fifth volume of the Cerebus series, represents a point of departure for the series, focusing as it does on a small cast of characters, living out their lives in orbital, Thoreau-like "quiet desperation", drawn ever inward, until at last, they inevitably collide. This new edition, painstakingly restored and printed on acid-free paper with a durable sewn binding, reveals astounding detail never before present outside of the original art itself. (STL119239)

DASHA AVATAR

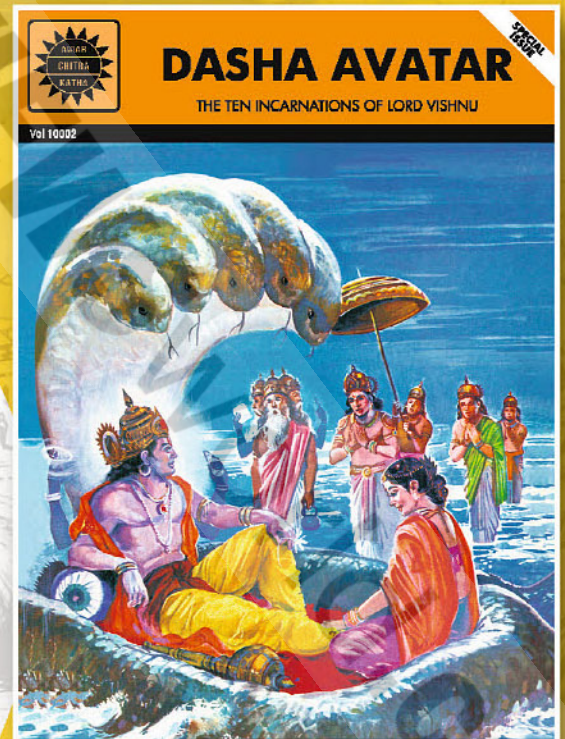

THE TEN INCARNATIONS OF LORD VISHNU

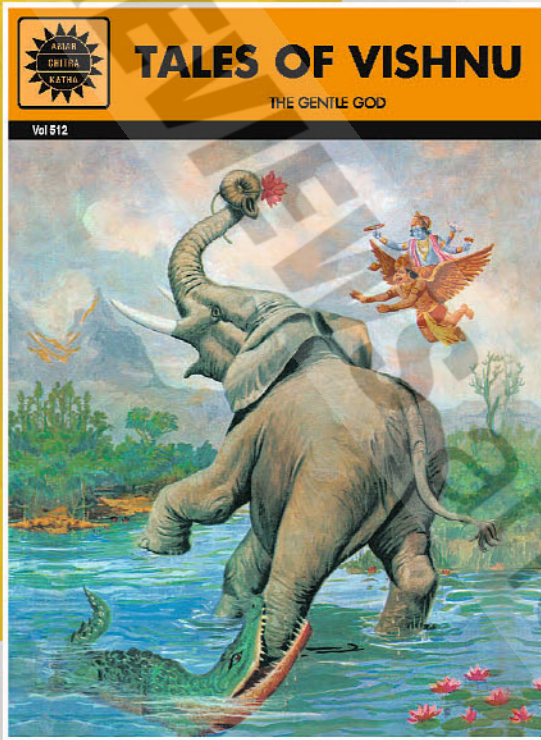

Writer | Artist | Cover Artist:
Amar Chitra Katha
Intended Audience: All Ages
Genre: Epic & Mythology
Cover Type: Paperback

In puranic lore, vishnu is the preserver of the universe and the cosmic order. Dashavatar is the mythological story of the 10 avatars of vishnu who descends to the terrestrial world to establish stability and order, time and again. The progression in the ten incarnations of vishnu is found parallel to darwin's theory of evolution by many. Starting from the first vishnu avatar – matsya or fish representing life in water, followed by kurma or turtle signifying life in water and on land, then varaha or boar alluding to terrestrial life and so on. The sequence of the vishnu avatars could be taken to symbolise various stages in the evolution of life culminating in the advent of the perfect being.

HUNGRY HEART GN

(W/A/CA) Jem Milton

Laurie, a plucky young writer, gets his big break interviewing heartthrob chef Oryan Adjei. Laurie has idolized Oryan since watching him in the Great British Kitchen Trials on television, back when they were both teens. However, Oryan's life is lonelier than it seems from the outside, and his career has taken a direction he isn't sure he wants to continue. Laurie seems to get Oryan in a way few others do. Despite their attempts to keep things professional, the two begin to bond over cheesesteaks, flat whites, and stolen hors d'oeuvres. Can Laurie overcome his self-doubt and anxious head while navigating the attention Oryan receives? Mutual feelings grow, but the pair find themselves in a pressure cooker of celebrity and scandal that threatens their chance at romance. Based on the hit webcomic Hungry Heart is a sweet, queer rom-com that explores self-discovery, identity, and acceptance. (STL324614) (C: 1-1-2)

Ausar leads his kin on an expedition to Minoa to find out the true threat of the ancients in the region. Unbeknownst to them, their transport has alternative motives for bringing them, leading them to a deadly battle on a remote uncharted island in the Mediterranean. Ausar uses all of his skills to protect his family as they are forced to fight terrifying ancients and during the battle, he is gravely wounded. When they finally reach Minoa, Ausar needs time to recover before they set out to explore the coast of Cypress. While he is away, Seth, Auset, and Nehbet meet the Queen. It is at this time that they realize there is a god-touched within the city. A young boy named Menes, who wields the power of Magma. This complication leaves many questions to be answered but before they can figure out the details, an invasion begins. The Spartans are here and they want Minoan blood. $16.99 | 116 pages | Mature

"EVERFROST exists delightfully at the crossroads between science fiction and fantasy. It's beautiful, earnest, and fully realized in a way that few modern comics manage to be. Prepare to be enraptured by its wonder."

-Lonnie Nadler (Black Stars Above, X-Men, Undone By Blood)

Van Louise retired to the ice coast so she could quietly find a way off planet from a world on the wrong side of societal collapse.

She biohacks a dead leviathan to orchestrate passage away into the universe, but her plans are about to get chewed up by a mounting war between the Warlords (violent gatekeepers for the global ruling party) and the Bloom (who risk extinction living out on the water) as well as a family reunion with her son she hasn't seen since he died in her arms when he was a child.

Join writer Ryan K Lindsay (ETERNAL, NEGATIVE SPACE), artist Sami Kivelä (ABBOTT, UNDONE BY BLOOD), and colourist Lauren Affe (THE WITCHER, STRANGER THINGS), as they drop an absolute bomb of sci fi insanity and heartbreaking emotion.

"A truly unique sci-fi story with a fantastic voice driving the narrative. Great story, great art."

-Michael Moreci (Barbaric, Wasted Space)

PRAISE FOR EVERFROST

"Lindsay and Kivela have hit gold. It works both as a morally grey and complex intimate drama and rip roaring sci-fi/fantasy which feels fresh and unique."

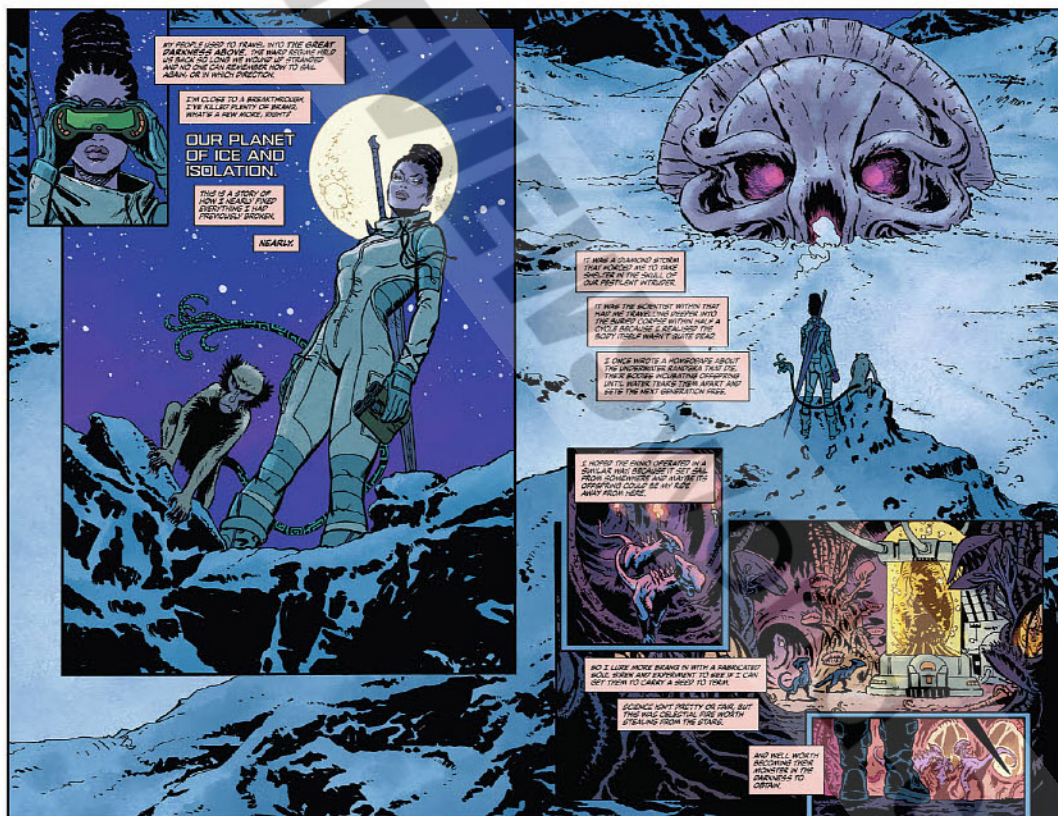

-Christian Ward (Black Bolt)

"Everfrost is what happens when science is used as a cover for the guilt associated with past sins. Bundle up for the ride."

-Erica Shultz (Daredevil)

"Every page is a delicious treat that leaves one craving more as this bizarre and deadly and strange new world is developed panel by panel."

-Scott Redmond, Comicon

BLOOMSBURY

EINSTEIN IN KAFKALAND HC

(W/A) Ken Krimstein
During the year that Prague was home to both Albert Einstein and Franz Kafka from 1911-1912, the trajectory of the two men's lives wove together in uncanny ways—as did their shared desire to tackle the world's biggest questions in Europe's strangest city. In stunning words and pictures, Einstein in Kafkaland reveals the untold story of how their worlds wove together in a cosmic battle for new kinds of truth. For Einstein, his lost year in Prague became a critical bridge set him on the path to what many consider the greatest scientific discovery of all time, his General Theory of Relativity. And for Kafka, this charmed year was a bridge to writing his first masterpiece, The Judgment. Based on diaries, lectures, letters, and papers from this period amid a planet electrifying itself into modernity, Einstein in Kafkaland brings to life the emergence of a new world where art and science come together in ways we still grapple with today. THE DEPARTED GN

(W) Rodolphe (A) Chris Wraight
The peace of Mordwick, a small coastal village, is shattered by the news that mysterious individuals have come ashore to dig up the recently departed. They looked like pirates, and rumours swell that the infamous captain Black Mary, a legendary, freedom-loving marauder desperately wanted by the Royal Navy, is involved. BÉLA LUGOSI: THE MAN BEHIND THE CAPE

Writers: Robert Cremer

Béla Lugosi's commanding presence, hypnotic voice, and mesmerizing gaze made him the embodiment of Count Dracula, a role that has established him as a cultural icon and a legend of the silver screen forever. But there's so much more to this captivating individual than meets the eye.

This definitive biography of the man behind that menacing cape takes you deep into the personal life of Béla Lugosi as no other biography can. Exclusive interviews by the author, Robert Cremer, with Lillian Lugosi Donlevy, his wife of 20 years, as well as with Béla's closest Hungarian relatives and friends, reveal new insights into Béla's humble beginnings in Transylvania, his political activism in Hungary — which cost him his wife, family and almost his life, his harrowing transatlantic crossing to the U.S. and his struggles here to realize his dream of becoming a success on stage and in film. The story doesn't stop there, and this book includes exclusive interviews with Edward D. Wood, Jr. unlock heretofore unknown background on Béla's involvement in the filming of the cult classics Glen or Glenda, Bride of the Monster and Plan 9 from Outer Space as only Ed Wood could provide.

The ultimate book for cinephiles, horror enthusiasts, and fans of Bela Lugosi is not to be missed. Featuring over 700 photos, family artifacts, and historical documents, many of which have never been seen outside of Lugosi's own family, collected here for the first time!

Writer: Sarah Byam

Artists: Tim Sale, José Villarrubia

Celebrate the genius and artistry of Tim Sale with one of his earliest published works, Billi 99. While his collaborations with Jeph Loeb on stories such as Spider-Man: Blue, Batman: The Long Halloween and Superman: For All Seasons, would elevate Tim to legendary status, Billi 99 revealed Tim's master storytelling talents. Billi 99 contains over 200 pages of breathtaking, lovingly painted, duo-shade art, with the hand lettering that would become Tim's official font. Sarah and Tim's book went on to be nominated for three Eisner awards! Set in 1999, Billi 99 embodies a cautionary tale in which corporate greed and corrupt government affected an America very much like our own today. With that, they posed the question, what is power when everything has been taken away? And now, Clover Press is proud to collect the complete mini-series in one deluxe hardcover, remastered in full color by award-winning colorist José Villarrubia!

NEW UNDERGROUND AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL COMIX FROM INDIE COMIC LEGEND CRAIG YOE!

© 2024 Craig Yoe and Clover Press, LLC. All Rights Reserved.

WOMAN & MAN +

Writer and Artist: Craig Yoe

Woman & Man + is a wildly surreal autobiographical telling of its artist, Yoe, losing his love, his country, and, some say, his sanity—and his struggle to reinvent himself. His passion for drawing comics was sidetracked for over a half a century by a career as a creative director for Jim Henson and the Muppets, Disney, Nickelodeon, and MTV. Coming back to his roots, he now dives deep into sex, horror, and drama, with a hint of humor and a whiff of hope. This highly anticipated loudly wordless graphic novel Woman & Man + has a revolutionary approach that breaks all the rules of conventional comic storytelling. Steranko meets Hieronymus Bosch by way of R. Crumb and Dali. The unique art style has been deemed, "Yoe-Brow!"

DC THOMPSON*COMMANDO PRESENTS: CODENAME WARLORD TP

(W) Iain McLaughlin

(A) Manuel Benet (CA) Ian Kennedy

In 1974, British comics publisher DC Thomson launched WARLORD, bringing a weekly anthology of action and adventure to comic readers across the UK and further afield. Among the most popular strips was Lord Peter Flint — Codename: WARLORD. The eponymous character continued to thrill readers every week until the comic ceased publication in 1986, after an incredible 627-issue run. Then, in 2019, Britain's top-secret agent returned in the pages of the legendary long-running Commando comic. These most recent adventures are collected in the brand-new graphic novel alongside the first six issues of the classic WARLORD comic as DC Thomson's Heritage Comics and Commando present... Codename: WARLORD Volume 1. Collecting over 170 pages of action-packed comic artwork and a behind-the-scenes look at the iconic colour covers and spreads that featured in the legendary WARLORD, this graphic novel is not to be missed! GIANT ROBOT: THIRTY YEARS OF DEFINING ASIAN-AMERICAN POP CULTURE HC

(W) Eric Nakamura

Los Angeles, 1994. Two Asian-American punk rockers staple together the zine of their dreams featuring Sumo, Hong Kong Cinema and Osamu Tezuka. From the very margins of the DIY press and alternative culture, Giant Robot burst into the mainstream with over 60,000 copies in circulation annually at its peak. Giant Robot even popped right off the page, setting up a restaurant, gallery, and storefronts in LA, as well as galleries and stores in New York and San Francisco. Home to a host of unapologetically authentic perspectives bridging the bicultural gap between Asian and Asian-American pop culture, GR had the audacity to print such topics side-by-side, and become a touchstone for generations of artists, musicians, creators, and collectors of all kinds in a pre-social media era. Nowhere else were pieces on civil rights activists running next to articles on skateboarding and Sriracha. Toy collectors, cartoonists, and street style pioneers got as many column inches as Michelle Yeoh, Karen O, James Jean, and Haruki Murakami. Giant Robot: Thirty Years of Defining Asian-American Pop Culture features the best of the magazine's sixty-eight issue run alongside never-before-seen photographs, supplementary writing by long-term contributing journalist Claudine Ko, and tributes from now-famous fans who've been around since day one. (W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

With a foreword by Sheila Heti, Leanne Shapton's cult art book inspired by a government textbook is back in print with a gorgeous new cover. Shapton distills each image into its simplest form, using vivid colors in lush ink and house paint. She takes the otherwise complex objects of trees, pinecones, and seeds and strips them down into bold, almost abstract shapes and colors: the water birch is represented as two pulsating red bulbs contrasted against a gray backdrop; the eastern white pine is represented by a close-up of its cone against a radiant summer sky. PROCESSING: 100 COMICS THAT GOT ME THROUGH IT GN

(W/A/CA) Tara Booth

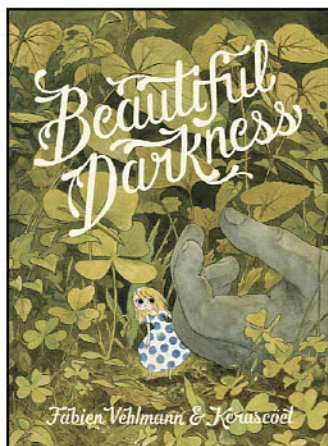

Known for her buzzing colors, delightful patterns, sharp humor, and unflinching vulnerability, Tara Booth does not miss any mark in this exquisitely woven collection of pure and nasty magic. Part advice column and exhibit, exploration of psychic pollution and tranquility, Processing is—quite simply—intrepid: in its honesty; its unapologetic grossness; its unrivaled and frank portrayal of life with a body that bleeds. In the grand tradition of underground women cartoonists like Julie Doucet and Aline Kominsky-Crumb, Booth draws a horned up woman laying rose petals on the bed, to distract from the bedbugs before her hookup arrives. She bears witness to the reality of wearing a t-shirt with no bra—when you stretch, your boobs, sometimes, pop right out. This is all just life but we don't often see it on the page. Undaunted, Booth draws it. With color that vibrates and fluids that impose, Processing lays Booth bare—literally and figuratively. ANNA AJ: TOP MODELS OF METART HC

(A) Isabella Catalina

"Hi, my name is Anna. I love chocolate, lying around in the sun, McDonalds, animals and, of course my family. I was born in Ukraine in the wonderful city of Kiev. Since childhood I was interested in creative activities, I was fond of singing and dancing, I even solo for my relatives and neighbours. However, together with age my hobbies changed a bit. I try to live my life the way that not let me regret about anything." With her delicate features, Anna could easily be mistaken for a porcelain doll. But make no mistake about it, she is far from fragile. Anna is comfortable in her skin, unafraid to bare all and show off the beauty she was born with. Her tiny body, accentuated by full breasts, is a testament to the beauty Ukrainian women are known for. Anna aspires to become a psychologist, deeply fascinated by the human mind. For Anna, life gains meaning when shared with someone else, and she looks forward to the meetings that destiny has in store for her. (STL324732) (C: 0-1-1)

MILENA D: THE TOP MODELS OF METART HC

(A) Isabella Catalina

We can never get tired of Ukrainian models. This one, Milena Dee from MetArt, is extremely sexy! Milena is 22 years old and her measurements are 36/23/36. A model for four years, avid blogger, and photographer, she has fascinated a large and devoted fanbase. We're certainly thrilled to be part of her admirers. With her flowing and very long blonde hair and endearing personality, Milena is a delight to collaborate with and the ideal companion for an evening. Milena possesses a dynamic character, being charming and outgoing with her friends, but can exhibit a tough and opposing side if something doesn't sit well with her. Milena ventured into nude modeling, and desiring to capture some stunning images of herself. This stunning Ukrainian leaves a sprinkle of enchantment everywhere she goes. And those captivating blue eyes? This hair? Absolutely spellbinding! (STL324731) (C: 0-1-1)

SUSANN: MY ALL-TIME FAVOURITE MODEL HC

(A) Stefan Soell

Susann, born in the former GDR, has a fascinatingly natural way of dealing with her nudity. It makes no difference whether clothed or unclothed, her behavior remains the same and her radiant charm and the dreamlike female body enchant the viewer within a very short time. This photo book provides a "best of" from 15 years of photo shoots with over 3000 photos. Surprisingly, Susann has hardly changed in this period. As a qualified nutritionist, she knows exactly what is good for the body. Her brown curly hair is her trademark and make-up is a foreign word for Susann, she never uses it during photo sessions. In addition to her healthy diet, she needs at least 10 hours of beauty sleep. These are certainly all good reasons for Susann's beautiful and still attractive curves. Take a look and enjoy this very intimate statement on naturism for yourself! (STL324729) (C: 0-1-1)

AMALGAM

By Frances Jetter

$60.00 / HC / 160 pgs / FC /
10.8" x 14"

In a uniquely told immigrant story, visual artist Frances Jetter connects her own life to her ancestors' and their ties to the labor movement. The narrative begins with Abram, a passionate advocate in his union but a tyrant at home, revealing the contradictions that make up his life and so many others. Some pages depict the struggle of workers, others are haunting vignettes of abandoned dolls and forgotten friends. It's also a love letter to Jetter's mother who hovers in the artist's mind like a ghost. There is a profound, understated moral power in Jetter's remembrance of loved ones, etching their essences in the same linoleum material that made up the floors of her childhood.

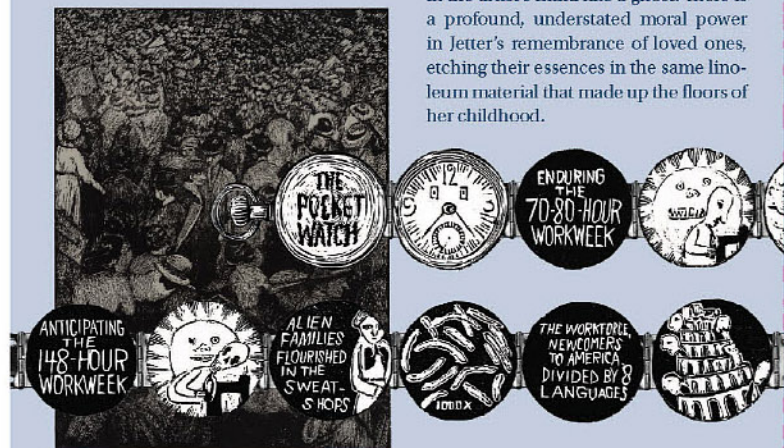

THE EMPTY LOT

By Mia Wolff

$50.00 / SC / 256 pgs / FC /
10" x 12"

The Empty Lot is a surreal and fascinating journey through the brain of Mia Wolff that begins with a dream that spills into the author's favorite empty lot, which serves as the portal to a demon cavorting in a flood of blood. It is a monograph of Mia Wolff's astonishingly beautiful paintings and a narrative of strange ecstasies amidst war. With a conversation between the author and famed SF author, essayist, and memoirist Samuel R. Delany.

ASH'S CABIN GN

(W/A/CA) Jen Wang

Ash has always felt alone. Adults ignore the climate crisis. Other kids Ash's age are more interested in popularity contests than in fighting for change. The only person who seemed to understand how desperate things were was Ash's grandpa, Edwin. Before he died, Edwin used to talk about building a secret cabin, off the grid in the California wilderness. And to Ash, that maybe-mythical cabin is starting to feel like the perfect place for a fresh start and an escape from the miserable feeling of alienation that haunts their daily life. But making the wilds your home isn't easy. And as much as Ash wants to be alone... can they really be happy alone? Can they survive alone? Available in Softcover and Hardcover editions. MIA AND FRIENDS GN

(W) Karlin Gray

(A/CA) Micheline Hess

Based on the true story of soccer legend Mia Hamm, Mia and Friends tells the empowering story of a group of young women who became as close as sisters on the soccer field, eventually making history at the 1999 Women's World Cup! Despite being named after a famous ballerina, little Mia Hamm never cared for pirouettes. Instead, she chased the ball: the baseball, the basketball, and especially the soccer ball. She was often the only girl in the game until, at age fifteen, she stepped onto the soccer field as part of the US Women's National Team. All around her, young women tackled and dribbled, passed and kicked, scored and screamed. They were just like her — but even more skilled. For Mia to improve, she had to play up to the levels of Michelle Akers, Briana Scurry, Brandi Chastain, and so many others. She was determined not to let her team down! Available in Softcover and Hardcover editions. (STL324798) (C: 0-1-0)

Marnie Plummer is a bookish, lonely girl with a chip on her shoulder. There's nothing she cares about more than her favorite book series, The Griffon Riders of Crystalfall. When it miraculously turns out that the world of the books is actually real, and they need a Chosen One to come from the real world and save them from danger, Marnie is shocked and — of course — overjoyed. There's just one problem. The Chosen One they seek is not actually her — it's Tiffany Rodriguez, the pretty, popular girl who (in Marnie's eyes) already has everything she could ever want. Why should Tiffany get to have this, too? Marnie decides she's the one who deserves to be the Chosen One. She'll make it happen no matter what, even if she has to do something she'd never thought she could do: become Tiffany's friend. Available in Softcover and Hardcover editions. SUPER BEAUTIES PARADE HC

A photo book featuring 500 photographs from various photographers is always a delight. Different techniques, different aesthetic conceptions, different tastes, especially when it comes to the models. Super Beauties Parade, as the title already suggests, is a selection of the most intimate, successful shoots by the featured photographers. This is where a photo series of the most beautiful, diverse models line up one after the other. They confidently showcase their bodies, from every detail to small and large breasts, for the camera. As diverse as they are, their beauty unites them, this is what varied nude photography should be today: spicy, tempting, delightful, sweet, enchanting, charming, nice, perfect, sharp, voluptuous, shameless, naughty, risqué, provocative, unrestrained, immoral, depraved, sinful, appealing, hot, and uninhibited! BRAINCOMIX GN

(W) Jean-François Marmion
(A) B Monsieur

The human brain is the most complex structure in the universe. It's as awe-inspiring as it is intimidating, when you're not an expert. So how can we get to know the brain? By asking him to introduce himself, of course! In BrainComix, the brain is the star of the show, hamming it up in a televised interview conducted by the intrepid journalist Julia Mojito. Without jargon, and with plenty of humor, we come to understand how this spongy, bloody organ acts as our guardian angel, filters our perceptions, and shapes the stories we tell about the world and about ourselves. THE BODY FACTORY: FROM THE FIRST PROSTHESES TO THE AUGMENTED HUMAN GN

(W/A) Heloise Chochois

A young man has a horrible motorcycle accident. He wakes up in the hospital to discover that one of his arms has been amputated. Then a portrait on the wall of his hospital room begins to speak to him. The subject of the painting introduces himself as Ambroise Paré, the French barber-surgeon who revolutionized the art of amputation. From this wonderfully absurd premise, the two begin an imaginary conversation that takes them through a sweeping history of surgical amputation, from the Stone Age to the Space Age. Unencumbered by pathos or didacticism, this graphic novel explores the world of amputation, revealing fascinating details about famous amputees throughout history, the invention of the tourniquet, phantom limb syndrome, types of prostheses, and transhumanist technologies. Playfully illustrated and seriously funny, The Body Factory is sure to delight anyone interested in the history and future of medicine and how we repair — and even enhance — the body. (STL199995)

She's not ready to watch the racy shows the high school kids like, or to listen to the angsty music, or to stop playing make-believe with her younger brother. She's not ready to change for PE in front of everyone, or for the chaos of the hallways or for the anarchy of an English class that's overrun with fourteen-year-old boys. But then there's Libby. Tara doesn't know whether she's ready for Libby. She can't even explain who Libby is to her because she doesn't know yet. SLICE OF LIFE

Join couple Julia and Marc as they leave the comfort of home to live in a country whose culture and art has inspired them: Japan!

When the economy takes a downturn and Marc loses his engineering job, the pair realize that their relative lack of ties means they can pool their savings and his severance to embark on a new adventure, and where better for a comic artist and aspirational video game musician to go than Japan? (until the money runs out, anyway...)

Julia documents the entire experience, how they move into a tiny apartment, enroll in a local Japanese school, and begin to acclimate to the local culture (mysterious toilets! Inscrutable garbage rules! The local fire patrol!). Follow their heartfelt and hilarious adventures as they discover more about this incredible country and each other.

- Includes bonus pages by Julia reflecting on her time in Japan years later
- Fans of anime and manga will notice the cheeky influence of noted mangaka (manga artists) like Akira Toriyama (Dragon Ball), Rumiko Takahashi (Ranma 1/2), and many more throughout the book, alongside thoughtful and heartfelt cultural observation

CARL BARKS COMICS & STORIES ORIGINAL ART EDITION: THE COMPLETE BARKS MGM VOLUME 2 HC

(W) Kim Weston, Carl Barks

(A/CA) Carl Barks

This volume prints 13 complete large, four-tier Carl Barks stories in their original, full-size black-and-white format — one full page of art on each page of the book! These 13 stories of the combined Barney Bear & Benny Burro feature were originally published in Our Gang Comics #11-23, and another volume — containing the rest of the stories, from Our Gang Comics #24-36 — is planned for next year, yielding Barks' Complete MGM art in 3 volumes! This second volume measures 18" wide and 26" tall and weighs in at about 8 pounds! Looking at these pages as printed in this book is like looking at the pages fresh from the master's drawing board! The stories from are printed one art page to the book page, with a live image size of 16" x 23 1/4" — the size that Barks drew almost all his original art at, beginning in December 1943 until he retired in 1966, with only very rare exceptions. These pages are printed from proofs which are derived from the 7" x 10" photo negatives taken of the original art between December 1943 and December 1945. Looking at the stories in this book really is like looking at pages of Barks' original art because Barks didn't make many mistakes that needed correction in his art. His main use of white ink was not to correct errors, but to delineate details in black on black images or add pie cuts to the ducks' eyes. (STL324609) (C: 0-1-2)

CARL BARKS COMICS & STORIES ORIGINAL ART EDITION MGM VOLUME 2

AN APPRECIATION by John Garvin

Most of the "Artist-Edition"-type books are shot from the original art, which is great because you get to see the art at the size the artist drew it and a lot of the process and editorial stuff: pencil lines, paste-ups, editorial notes, white out, etc. So why have an Artist-Edition-type book that isn't shot from the originals, but from proofs, which do not have any of the editorial stuff? Two reasons: detail and immediacy, which are both related to the one thing the proofs do you give you: size. For this type of book, size is everything.

The Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition MGM Volume 2, like all the other Artist Editions, reproduces the art at the same size the artist drew it. What this means in terms of detail should be obvious. Barks, like all comic artists, drew for reproduction, meaning he knew that his large originals were going to be shrunk down to the size of a comic book. While this insured that his ink lines would be nice and sharp, it also meant that a lot of detail was going to get lost. And not just because of the newsprint, which doesn't hold ink well, or off-register colors, which could muddy up the page quite a bit. While those didn't help, the biggest culprit was the very act of reducing for reproduction.

A Barks four-tier page is 23 1/4" tall, which gets reduced to 9" for the comic. This is a reduction of 61% in height. In terms of image area, it is a reduction of 85 percent. A whole page of Barks art is reduced to just a little bigger than he drew each of the 8 panels on the page. A half page is smaller than a single panel. You really don't know how big a deal this is (pun intended) until you hold the Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition Volume 2 in your hands, unless you have already gotten the first volume, the Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition.

Take the half page of panels from a Barney Bear and Benny Burro story on the next page. At the size it was drawn, you can see the details of the ink shading lines in the first panel, the town off in the distance in the third panel, the frenetic activity on the street in the fourth, the subtlety of the character expressions in the fifth. You can't actually see all that in the half page as reproduced on a sheet of 8 1/2" x 11" paper, but the big half-page and the little copy of the same half-page show the relative size of the original art and the art as printed in a comic book, but with better quality printing than in a comic book. The large size excerpt of the fifth panel is reproduced in the size it was drawn on the bottom half of the page if the page is viewed at 8 1/2" x 11" size. The smaller reproduction of the partial panel is the size it was printed in the original comic book.

How much of this do we lose in that 61% reduction? Or 85% reduction depending on how you want to count it? A lot...

But it's not just the detail we lose, it's the pen lines. Which brings me to the idea of immediacy. When you're looking at the pages in Carl Barks Original Art Edition volume 1 or Volume 2, you're looking at the art the way Barks did, seeing it the way he saw it while he was inking it. You can almost smell the India ink. You can feel his Esterbrook #356 pen in your hand. Looking at these pages puts you right there in Barks' studio, sitting at his drawing board, slaving over page after page of incredible art. Pen and ink art.

Much has been made of Barks' clean-but-expressive line-work. Really, what this means, is he was a master of his craft. Wielding an Esterbrook #356 pen is no easy task. In cartooning, to create expressive characters you have to know when to thicken your line, when to use a lighter touch; when to connect the lines or leave them; when to spot blacks or leave the space empty. Using the same pen, you draw things to look organic or mechanical, straight or curved, heavy or light,

BARNEY HAS PERSUADED BENNY TO SET OUT WITH HIM TO SEE THE WILD WEST, BUT ALL IS GOING BADLY—BARNEY DIDN'T BRING ANYTHING TO EAT, OR MONEY TO BUY ANYTHING TO EAT, OR A ROAD MAP TO GUIDE THEM TO ANYTHING TO EAT! THEY'D GLADLY GO HOME, BUT THEY DON'T KNOW THE WAY—BARNEY DIDN'T BRING A COMPASS!

LEAVE IT TO ME! I'LL GET US OUTA THIS JAM!

HERE'S A TRAIL—MAYBE IT GOES SOMEWHERE!

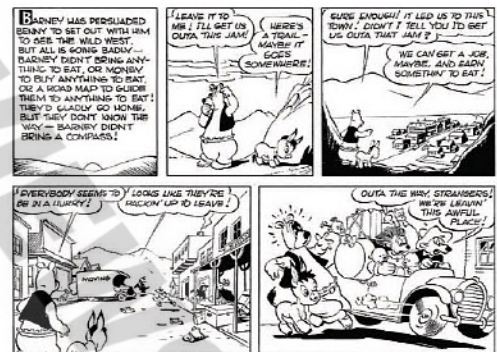

SURE ENOUGH! IT LED US TO THIS TOWN! DIDN'T I TELL YOU I'D GET US OUTA THAT JAM?

WE CAN GET A JOB, MAYBE, AND EARN SOMETHIN' TO EAT!

EVERYBODY SEEMS TO BE IN A HURRY!

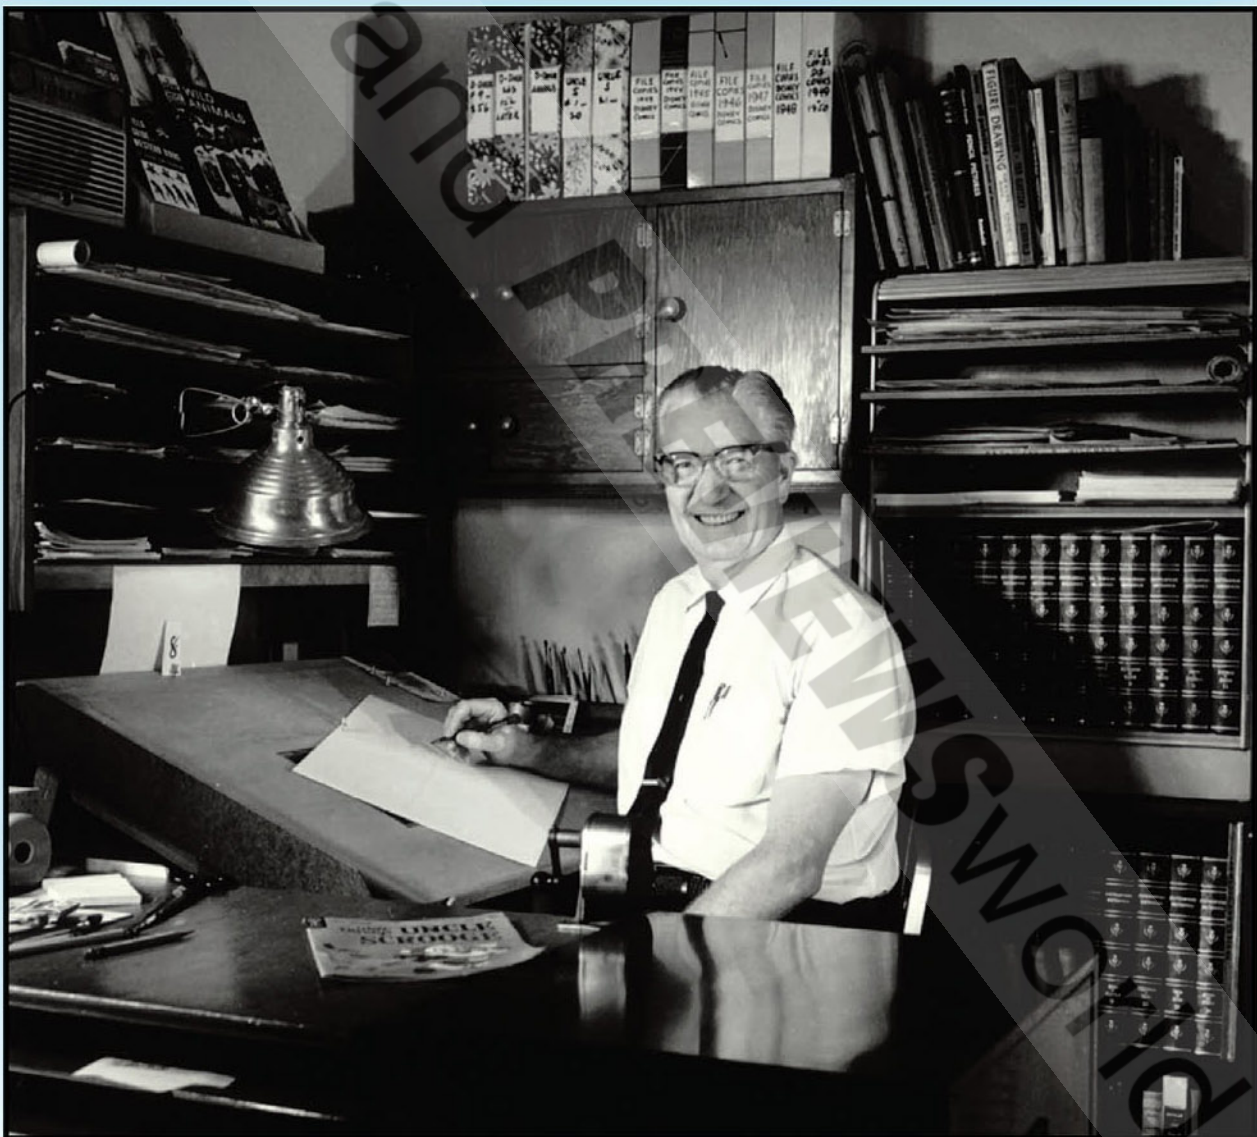

LOOKS LIKE THEY'RE PACKIN' UP TO LEAVE!

OUTA THE WAY, STRANGERS! WE'RE LEAVIN' THIS AWFUL PLACE!

In the example on the bottom of the previous page, just look at the way Barks uses thick and thin in his line work to make the characters come alive. Hands and arms and faces have a flow to them that makes them jump off the page. This is the mature work of a man who has drawn and inked hundreds if not thousands of pages by this time. This is the work of an artist.

And that, more than anything, is what the new Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition MGM Volume 2 and the earlier Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition celebrate: Carl Barks as a master craftsman. Yes, the storytelling is still there, and the layouts, and the composition and all that Barks is famous for. But only in a book like this can you appreciate his ink art, in all its life-size glory. Coming next year is Carl Barks Comics & Stories Original Art Edition MGM Volume 3, same size and format as Volume 2, with the last 13 of Barks' MGM stories.

O/A CARL BARKS COMICS & STORIES ORIGINAL ART EDITION: THE COMPLETE BARKS MGM VOLUME 1 HC

(W) Kim Weston, Carl Barks
(A/CA) Carl Barks

This volume prints 9 complete Carl Barks stories in the original, full size they were originally drawn in glorious black and white. There are 2 Happy Hound (Droopy) stories, 3 Benny Burro solo stories, and 4 stories of the combined Bamey Bear and Benny Burro feature. The book measures over 14 inches wide and 20 inches tall and weighs over 5 pounds. Looking at these pages as printed in this book is like looking at the pages fresh from the master's drawing board. Five early stories from 1943 are printed one page to the page in the book page with an image size of about 12.5 by 17.75 inches, the size that Barks drew his original art in 1942 and most of 1943. Beginning in December 1943, Barks started drawing in the larger size of 16 inches by 23.25 inches and continued to draw that size for the rest of his career with only very rare exceptions. These pages are so large that in order to fit them into this already large book, we must print each half page sideways on a single page so that if you turn the book sideways you can see each full page at the size it was drawn. These pages are printed from proofs which are derived from the 7 x10 inch photo negatives taken of the original art between 1943 and 1947. Looking at the stories in this book really is like looking at pages of Barks' original art because Barks didn't make many mistakes that needed correction in his art. His main use of white ink was not to correct errors, but to delineate details in black on black images or add pie cuts to the ducks' eyes. (STL265531)

WRITER DAN DIDIO TALKS ABOUT THE ALL-NEW DEFENDERS OF THE EARTH MINISERIES

As a fan of the original animated series, I was excited by the opportunity to work on this title. I'm hoping to build on some of the show's classic elements and move them in new directions while exploring the personalities and lives of the characters that make the series great.

One of the best aspects of the series was finding a way to unite the show's four but disparate, iconic stars following the end of their war with Ming. What I think sets it apart from other books featuring Flash Gordon, Mandrake, The Phantom, and Lothar is the added generational aspect of the story. That's the fun part of writing Defenders of the Earth. The father/son relationships of Flash and Rick, Lothar and LJ, father/daughter with The Phantom and Jenna, and mentor/protege with Mandrake and Kshir are really the heart of the story. What makes and breaks these families is key to saving the world from a new and more deadly challenge.

Football is a religion where Adrian “The Colombian Cannon” Molina comes from and with his wicked right leg, he has a clear shot to the promised land of the European Junior Leagues. But when a football scout offers him a full scholarship to an elite prep school in London, the news seems too good to be true. His enrollment hits a snag upon meeting the team’s star striker, Titan Evans. Titan is everything Adrian is not; rich, powerful, connected, and with a hunger to dominate the school as well as the pitch. The constant fighting, teasing, and bullying, brings about crippling anxiety of losing his spot on the team. That’s until Luciano DeSilva takes him under his wing, and gives Adrian the confidence to be himself and value his position on the team. From visionary writer and podcaster Jay Sandlin (Over the Ropes), illustrator Patrick Mulholland (Power Rangers), and superstar colorist Rebecca Nalty (GLOW) comes a football story that blends the energy and heart of Shonen manga with a story about finding the right people in your life to not only make you a better player, but a better person.

The first official graphic novel from NBA superstar Stephen Curry, who overcame the odds to become one of the greatest basketball players of all time! Stephen Curry is considered one of the — if not the — greatest shooters of all time. But his road to greatness was filled with plenty of bumps and obstacles. Coaches and players always told him he was too small and too short to be truly great. Even when Curry declared his eligibility for the NBA, a scouting report noted that he "lacks great height, length or strength, and possesses below average lateral quickness...making him a potential defensive liability." In this latest volume in the What Is the Story of...? series, young readers will discover the exciting story of the beloved ponies, unicorns, and other fanciful characters of the My Little Pony universe! When

Hasbro's pony toys first hit shelves in 1981, they were originally called My Pretty Pony. By 1982, the toys were renamed My Little Pony and the world of rainbow-colored horses with hair you could brush began capturing the hearts of children everywhere. These pony characters soon became the stars of cartoons, movies, and video games. SKELEANOR THE DECOMPOSER GN

(W) Josh Bycel, Rich Korson
(A) Damion Scott

An instantly charming and vivid chapter-book graphic novel, starring a music-obsessed skeleton, Skeleanor, and her quest to find her sound (and her confidence) by debut creator Emily Ettlinger! Skeleanor loves music more than life itself. There's just one problem: She has a bit more rattle than rhythm at the moment. No matter what type of instrument she plays — from the fiddle to the xylophone — she always seems to scare the people of Little Caske-ton away. But with the Little Caske-ton Summershine festival coming up, and the town band missing a player, maybe Skeleanor (along with the help of her best friend, Batima) could show people her skills and finally take center stage. PENGUIN YOUNG READERS

FULL SHIFT GN

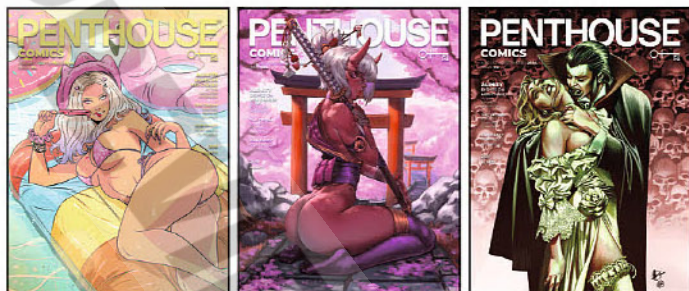

(W) Jennifer Dugan
(A) Kit Seaton

In this queer, supernatural YA graphic novel from the author of Some Girls Do and the illustrator of Wonder Woman: Warbringer, a reluctant teen werewolf would do anything to be human — if that's what it takes to win her crush's heart. Tessa feels like she doesn't fit in anywhere. Not at school, where she can't figure out how to confess the feelings she has for her friend Maddie. And definitely not at home, where the other werewolves in her family make her feel like an outcast because she can't even shift into her full wolf form yet. Sometimes she thinks her whole life would be easier if she wasn't a werewolf at all. When word gets out that a group of werewolf hunters has infiltrated her pack's territory and that they've developed a cure that can make werewolves human, Tessa thinks she's found the answer to her problems. But when she discovers there might be more to the hunters' plans than anyone knows, it's up to Tessa to put herself on the line to protect the lives of those she loves most. And the only way to save them is to embrace the wolf inside her that is howling to get out. (STL325113) (C: 0-1-0)

(W) Ray Krank, Dick Ayers
(A) Dick Ayers, Frank Frazetta
(CA) Dick Ayers
Created by Dick Ayers and Ray Krank — Rex Fury was originally known as "The Calico Kid," who together with his white horse Spectre became the Ghost Rider! Wearing a white outfit covered with phosphorus and using a cape that had phosphorescent material on one side and black on the other, he could cover parts of his body to give the illusion that he was merely a floating head or pair of hands! To further the illusion, he used a black lariat and black bull-whip — even Spectre glowed in the dark! The Ghost Rider battled many foes — who like him — were not truly supernatural at all, such as an imposter of Frankenstein's Monster and the Harpy, werewolves and vampires! Previously released as a hardcover and now available for the first time in our popular SOFTEE format! PRE-CODE CLASSICS: TALES OF HORROR VOLUME 2 SOFTEE

(A) Bill Molno & Various
Toby Press was a small but respectable comics publisher, which also used the imprint Minoan; they put out one issue of Tales of Terror, then got hit by a cease-and-desist order from E.C., which used that title for their annuals (don't worry we'll bring you that particular issue later on). Toby dropped that and started over with Tales of Horror, which ran for 13 issues. Toby may be the only comics publisher to swipe the urbane and cynical stories of John Collier, rather than relying on Poe, Lovecraft, and the like. SATAN WAS A LESBIAN SC

(W) Fred Haley (CA) Doug Weaver
Satan Was A Lesbian is the infamous pulp novel that launched a thousand t-shirts, and coffee mugs and posters and notecards and on and on and on. Many people have seen this cover, but few have read the book or even realized that it was a real book that was published in a simpler, more ignorant time. Following our anti-hero Charlene, Satan Was A Lesbian paints of a picture of a woman who no man could resist, until they looked into her cold, black eyes. Only one person, Cynthia — who became completely 'turned on' when she was thoroughly frightened, something even remotely close to love in Charlene — which of course, led to a deadly end. Chispa. The Thirteen Origins is a series of one-shot origin stories for the members of "The Thirteen," a group of Mexicans and Mexican-Americans who discover they are chispas, able to wield impossible powers. Cal Casas has a lot of problems — they're unhoused, for one, and they can't get a specific jerk at work to gender them correctly, for two — but they've got things under control, for the most part. They don't need anything more than a tent and their temp construction jobs, drifting from place to place because they know they're not smart enough for much else. One thing they definitely don't need is to get chispa abilities to form structures out of inorganic matter on their 18th birthday. Or, maybe Cal does need chispa powers... (STL312525)

TASCHEN AMERICA L.L.C.SPOTLIGHT ON*HR GIGER HC (MULTILINGUAL EDITION)(W) H. R. Giger, Andreas J Hirsch
(A/CA) H. R. GigerSwiss artist HR Giger (1940-2014) is most famous for his creation of the space monster in Ridley Scott's 1979 horror sci-fi film Alien, which earned him an Oscar. In retrospect, this was just one of the most popular expressions of Giger's biomechanical arsenal of creatures, which consistently merged hybrids of human and machine into images of haunting power and dark psychedelia. The visions drew on demons of the past, as well as evoking mythologies for the future. Above all, they gave expression to the collective fears and fantasies of his age: fear of the atom, of pollution and wasted resources, and of a future in which our bodies depend on machines for survival. This book was originally begun shortly before the artist's untimely death and shows the complete story of Giger's life and art, his sculptures, film work, and iconic album covers as well as the heritage he left us in his own artist's museum and self-designed bar in the Swiss Alps. In an in-depth essay, Giger scholar Andreas J. Hirsch plunges into the themes of Giger's oeuvre and world while an extensive artist biography draws on contemporary quotes and Giger's own writings. All text is presented in English, French and German. (STL324778) (C: 0-1-1)

STAR WARS ARCHIVES: EPISODES IV-VI (1977-1983) HC

(W) Paul Duncan
Star Wars exploded onto our cinema screens in 1977, and the world has not been the same since. Writer, director, and producer George Lucas created the modern monomyth of our time, one that resonates with the child in us all. He formed Industrial Light & Magic to develop cutting-edge special effects technology, which he combined with innovative editing techniques and a heightened sense of sound to give audiences a unique sensory cinematic experience. In this first volume (made with the full cooperation of Lucasfilm), Lucas narrates his own story, taking us through the making of the original trilogy — Episode IV: A New Hope, Episode V: The Empire Strikes Back, and Episode VI: Return of the Jedi — and bringing fresh insights into the creation of a unique universe. Complete with script pages, production documents, concept art, storyboards, on-set photography, stills, and posters, this tome is an authoritative exploration of the original saga as told by its creator! The life, art, and legacy of Tom Palmer is celebrated with a retrospective and career-spanning interview with the late inker extraordinaire, plus tributes from an array of comics pros, compiled by Greg Biga. We also chat with great cartoonist Lee Marrs, from her start assisting on Little Orphan Annie, to hilarious work for DC's Plopl!, to breaking into the underground with Pudge, Girl Blimp, as well as forging her own path in the comics scene. In addition, we begin a multi-part look at the life and career of Dan DiDio, one-time co-publisher of DC Comics and current Frank Miller Presents publisher, talking with him about his eclectic writing work for television and rise as renowned comics scribe. Plus there's part two of our in-depth talk with the late writer Arnold Drake about his storied comics career, that includes co-writing perhaps the first graphic novel, It Rhymes with Lust [1950], and his foray at Marvel Comics, where he created Guardians of the Galaxy. Also, we spotlight the fascinating public service comics produced by the students of the Center for Cartoon Studies, and more! (STL324717) (C: 0-1-1)

AMERICAN COMIC BOOK CHRONICLES: 1945-1949 HC

(W/A) Various

The American Comic Book Chronicles continues its ambitious series of full-color hardcovers, where TwoMorrow's top authors document every decade of comic book history from the 1940s to today! At long last, this 1945-49 volume covers the comic book industry during the aftermath of World War II, when scores of writers and artists returned from foreign battlefields to resume their careers. It was a period when readers began turning away from the escapist entertainment offered by super-heroes in favor of other genres, like the grittier, more brutal crime comics. It was a time when Joe Simon and Jack Kirby created Young Romance, inaugurating a golden age of romance comics. And it was during this five-year period that Timely and National Comics capitalized on the popularity of Westerns, that Bill Gaines plotted a new course for EC Comics in the wake of his father's death, and that Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster first sued for the rights to Superman. These are just a few of the events chronicled in this exhaustive, full-color hardcover, further documenting the ACBC series' cohesive, linear overview of the entire landscape of comics history! By Richard J. Arndt and Kurt F. Mitchell, with Keith Dallas. (STL277945) (C: 0-1-2)

CRYPTOLOGY #1

Greetings, creep culturists! For my debut issue, I, the Cryptologist (with the help of From the Tomb editor Peter Normanton), have exhumed the worst Horror Comics excesses of the 1950s, Killer "B" movies to die for, and the creepiest, kookiest toys that crossed your boney little fingers as a child! But wait... do you dare enter the House of Usher, or choose sides in the skirmish between the Addams Family and The Munsters? Can you stand to gaze at Warren magazine frontispieces by this issue's cover artist Bernie Wrightson, or spend some Hammer Time with that studio's most frightening films? And if Atlas pre-code covers or terrifying science-fiction are more than you can take, stay away! All this, and more, is lurching toward you in TwoMorrow's Publishing's latest, and most decrepit, magazine — just for retro horror fans, and featuring my henchmen Will Murray, Mark Voger, Barry Forshaw, Tim Leese, Pete von Sholly, and Steve and Michael Kronenberg! AMERICAN COMIC BOOK CHRONICLES: THE 1990s HC (NEW PRINTING)

The 1990s was the decade when Marvel Comics sold 8.1 million copies of an issue of the X-Men, saw its superstar creators form their own company, cloned Spider-Man, and went bankrupt. The 1990s was when Superman died, Batman had his back broken, and the runaway success of Neil Gaiman's Sandman led to DC Comics' Vertigo line of adult comic books. It was the decade of gimmicky covers, skimpy costumes, and mega-crossovers. But most of all, the 1990s was the decade when companies like Image, Valiant and Malibu published million-selling comic books before the industry experienced a shocking and rapid collapse. Shin Megami Tensei - The Roleplaying Game: Tokyo Conception is a deep yet accessible TTRPG for 3-5 players + 1 GM that perfectly captures themes of the original Shin Megami Tensei video game series, allowing players to wield familiar spells such as Agi and Megido against legendary demons like Jack Frost, Metatron, and the Moirae Sisters. Tokyo Conception further preserves the franchise's essence by incorporating staple elements such as demon negotiation, the Affinity system, and punishing status ailments like Poison and Stun while also introducing more typical TTRPG mechanics such as critical hits, fumbles, and exploding dice, to ensure encounters are both challenging and rewarding. Tokyo Conception is based on the world of Shin Megami Tensei III Nocturne. The game designers have recreated every region with great attention to detail. The book offers nearly 100 pages of stats for every demon, including bosses like Ahri-man, Baal Avatar, Noah, and Kagutsuchi itself, and plenty of seeds for brand-new adventures. SPOTLIGHT ON

THE GARDENER'S FAVORITE POISONOUS FLOWER GN

(W) Rirako Kabashima

When itinerant traveler Orbit, also known as "Ollie," gets stranded without permit or paperwork in the authoritarian city-state of Belote, the only place that will hire him is as a caretaker, or "gardener," at the male brothel Le Jouet Queue. He quickly discovers that all of the companions working there are furless, half animal and half human beings who are treated as pets, property, and sometimes even as livestock for slaughter. For many of the furless there, life at the brothel is a marked improvement from all they've suffered earlier in their lives. They are fed, sheltered, pampered, and looked after by Ollie and the other gardeners — and even a gilded cage is better than the cruelties of the outside world. But when Ollie's considerate, gentle nature and pure heart catch the eye of the tempestuous Aconit, the most prized and coveted furless in Le Jouet Queue, what begins as idle seduction soon blooms into something deeper. AKUTAGAWA'S RASHOMON AND OTHER STORIES: THE MANGA GN

(W) mkdeville,

Ryunosuke Akutagawa

(A) Philippe Nicloux

A sword-swinging samurai, a corpse-robbing crone and a falsely accused trans man stand at the center of these four iconic tales, once the inspiration for a classic film, now turned into stunning graphic novellas. The stories in this volume by Ryunosuke Akutagawa — the renowned "father of the Japanese short story" are captured by manga masters mkdeville and Philippe Nicloux in these four action-packed adaptations. Rashomon: A houseless servant pits morality against survival in a post-apocalyptic world where thievery and the desecration of the dead are necessary for survival. In the Grove: Conflicting statements and competing narratives call into question the notion of objective truth in a searing tale of rape and revenge. Otomi's Virginity: Pride, honor and dignity are at stake when a young servant is confronted by an unexpected aggressor at her employer's abandoned house. The Martyr: A pious Jesuit with a dark secret faces excommunication and death in 16th-century Japan, when Christianity was introduced and then banned by order of the Shogun. Stunning graphic adaptations turn these iconic tales into thrilling page-turners, following in the footsteps of the famous Kurosawa film. (STL324896) Scheduled to ship in August 2024. (C: 0-1-1)

After fiercely battling through the first few rounds of the annual beauty pageant, she and her love rival Asahi square off in the final showdown. Otaku culture has finally become mainstream, and Megumi can't quite get used to it. Divorced, with a teen daughter, Megumi thinks fondly back to her days as an anime and manga otaku—in 1995. That year, she transferred to a new school and decided to start fresh by hiding her otaku interests. She found herself taken under the wing of a basketball ace named Masamune, who's got a kind heart and looks just like one of her favorite characters. Though Megumi catches a whiff of destiny in the air, she's crushed to learn that Masamune detests otaku... (STL325443) Scheduled to ship in August 2024. (C: 0-1-2) SC, 192pgs, B&W $12.99

WELCOME TO DEMON SCHOOL! IRUMA-KUN VOLUME 9 GN

Thanks to their totally irresponsible actions, Iruma has found himself living in the Netherworld, where he must live and attend school as the grandson of an older demon. Luckily, his new, doting grandfather is there to help, but Iruma will have to figure out how to blend in with his demonic classmates or risk getting eaten. All he needs to do is subjugate rival classmates, summon familiars, and do other typical demon things while never revealing that he's human... Piece of cake, right? (STL325473) Scheduled to ship in August 2024. (C: 0-1-2) SC, 198pgs, B&W $12.95

UNO FLIP! MARVEL CARD GAME

From Mattel Toys. Brace yourself for the next iteration of classic UNO: UNO FLIP! It's the matching game you know, plus exciting new twists — like a double-sided deck, special FLIP card and tougher penalties — that give classic gameplay a competitive edge. There is a "Light Side" to the deck, which plays like classic UNO, and a "Dark Side" where penalties are super-tough. Play the FLIP card and all cards in your hand, the drawpile and draw deck are flipped over to reveal an entirely new set of numbers and colors on the opposite side! The holder of the FLIP card determines whether or not you play on the Light Side or Dark Side of the deck —and when you switch it back around. Injuries & Vile Deeds restores excitement to 5E combat, providing rules for cinematic, tactical encounters. PC Injuries create narrative tension, keeping the party on its toes as they weigh the risks of pressing on or allowing their enemies to get a step ahead. Meanwhile, players can now add mechanical effects to descriptive combat, inflicting Injuries on their enemies and causing negative status effects with every action. If you're a fan of the combat aesthetics in shows like Castlevania or The Witcher, or love the kill animations in games like God of War, Sekiro, and Shadow of Mordor, the Injuries and Vile Deeds will be the perfect addition to your game.
